RACSUC—Roseworthy Agricultural College Student Union Council

WAITE VS ROSEWORTHY NETBALL & FOOTBALL—Congratulations Roseworthy!

AVSA—Adelaide Veterinary Students Association

Congratulations on having almost completed study for 2016! Over the past couple of months, AVSA has been bursting with events and we are so pleased you have been able to attend and have a fantastic time with us.

Vet Ball

Back in August, our annual Vet Ball was held at The Hilton, with the theme of Masquerade. We had almost 400 attendees, all in fantastic attire and many featuring a mask for the opening of the night. We are very appreciative of Hills for being our major sponsor for the night and contributing our first photo booth, which was a raging success all night! We gave out a number of awards on the evening, including best dressed male and female to Dany Elzahaby and Yvette Clark (below).

Quiz Night

Shortly after Vet Ball, AVSA held a charity Quiz Night in Adelaide to raise funds for the Nsikasi Project in South Africa. We had a fantastic time and really enjoyed the ingenious trivia, and not-so-trivia questions thought up by our DVM III students.

Industry Night

Industry Night this year had heaps of great businesses with information stations, many of whom gave presentations. It was a fantastic opportunity to explore some of the major brands and hear what they can offer for students and new graduates. We also heard from a number of recent Veterinary and Animal Science graduates who were willing to share their story of what they have done since graduating and the factors which helped them get there.

Revue

Just a couple of weeks ago was this year's Rosie Revue. We had heaps of fantastic live acts and video submissions. A huge thank you to our contributors, we are so grateful and really enjoyed each of them!

End-Of-Year Pub Crawl

This year we are introducing our first end of year pub crawl. We have dedicated this pub crawl to the seemingly endless cycle that each of us vet students endures: Eat. Sleep. Vet. Repeat. It will be held in Adelaide on Friday 18th of November. All orders have now been taken, and we hope to hand-out the shirts during the exam period to each cohort at a specified exam. We will have limited spares to sell once we receive the order, so you will have to be quick if you wish to purchase one then.

AGM

On Thursday last week we held our annual general meeting and elected our new committee for 2017. We are pleased to announce the roles which have been allocated. Our year level representatives are yet to be determined; this will be chosen by each year level later this year or in early 2017.

2017 Committee:

- ◇ President - Sarah Nicholls
- ◇ Vice-President - Jenelle Payne
- ◇ Treasurer - Leone Immelmann
- ◇ Secretary - Emma Shepherd

Final Year Production Elective

By Amy Cleggett

Once again the final year production animal elective at the University of Adelaide involved a whirlwind tour of farming enterprises throughout the South East of South Australia and Western Victoria. Led by our intrepid adventurer, Dr Kiro Petrovski, the plans were set, “we leave at 11:30am on Sunday” he told us and being the good students we are, we prepared accordingly. So, you can imagine our surprise come Sunday morning when we learnt that 11:30 actually meant 10am... 10:30 at the latest. Some rushed packing following fears of previous warnings from Kiro that “if you are 1 minute late, you miss the bus, if you miss the bus, you fail”, saw us leaving campus only slightly behind our new schedule. Seemingly unphased, it wasn't long before Kiro brought out the ANZCVS board exams and our ‘learning’ began. After a couple of hours a few of us were happy to take a break, however this may have been more so to preserve Kiro's voice as so far he seemed to be doing more talking than our entire group combined. After a few more hours of quizzing we arrived, visibly unscathed, in Mount Gambier.

Bright and early Monday morning we set off across the border guided by tomtom and our additional navigation system of amyamy (sometimes it doesn't pay to be a local). The drive itself was quite eye opening with one near attempt to overtake a semi on double lines being quickly followed by the ‘click’ of several seatbelts and judgement of anyone attempting to overtake us on double lines for the remainder of the trip. We were also introduced to a game of ‘what's wrong with that animal’, and if you were lucky enough to spot the specific animal on the way past, this was definitely an advantage. Our first stop was at a stud beef property where we had the opportunity to discuss bull sales, fertility and participate in an unexpected game of hide and seek involving our boots and one very mischievous puppy. We then headed off to the Hamilton Research Centre where we gained insight into the research trials they are currently running involving canola, lucerne (which according to Kiro tasted pretty good) and measuring methane output in sheep.

The remainder of the week was filled with farm visits throughout the South East which exposed us to a range of farming enterprises running beef, dairy, sheep and pigs. We were exposed to a range of herd health scenarios including calf rearing, heifer management, infertility, feedlot management, bull management and pre-weaning mortalities. We also had the opportunity to examine some animals on an individual level taking part in some foot trimming, clinical examinations, pregnancy testing, and even an LDA surgery. These experiences exposed us to a range of management practices and allowed us to analyse them and offer advice in some cases. Our evenings were also kept busy with tutorial sessions, a DairySA farmer's dinner where Kiro spoke about mastitis and colostrum management, and finally a vet dinner where the local vets shared some cases of interest and friendly tips for veterinary practice.

We were able to gain an incredible amount of knowledge during the trip including a lot of things that can't be found in a textbook or a university lecture. There were several highlights during the week including Lauren scoring herself a free bottle of wine from one farm whilst admiring their vineyards, the 4:30am start in order to practice our pregnancy testing skills, and discovering that trying to squash a garbage bag full of rubbish through a 15 x 10cm bin opening is much like trying to replace a prolapsed uterus. However, one of the most memorable experiences was a discussion on calf rearing at one particular dairy farm. Whilst the farmer claimed he had no current issues that we could help him with he was quite keen to offer up some tips for our future careers. The use of woodchips for casting broken legs and the use of flour and water to help stop calf scours as in the farmer's own words, ‘it's like making a scone in the calf’ were particularly noteworthy.

It was a fantastic week and we would like to thank Dr Andrew Hoare, Dr Stuart Skirving and Dr Rebel Skirving for taking the time to help organise the farm visits and for coming out to share their knowledge and skills with us. We would also like to thank DairySA for sponsoring the trip and the farmer dinner and Graeme Pratt from the AVA for sponsoring the vet dinner. Finally, a special mention and thankyou to Dr Kiro Petrovski for making the whole trip possible and for your continual support, sharing of knowledge and fun facts and for getting us all back safely.
