The University of Adelaide Calendar Volume IV

This booklet is intended to provide an introduction to The University of Adelaide. More detailed information relating to any of the material in this booklet may be obtained by contacting relevant staff or by consulting other volumes of the University Calendar.

The Guide is divided into four main sections: a profile of the University; a directory of services and supports for students; the rules and procedures; and the timetables. Information is in alphabetical order within these four main sections.

Course timetables are provided for each Faculty, with the exception of the Faculties of Dentistry, Law and Medicine. Students enrolled with these Faculties should obtain information on timetables directly from the Faculty Office. Please note that students enrolled for first year subjects taught by departments in the Faculties of Dentistry, Engineering, Mathematical and Computer Sciences, Medicine or Science or for any subjects taught by the Department of Commerce will be allocated the times of their lectures, practicals and tutorials. Details of these allocations will be displayed on notice boards in the individual Departments before Orientation Week.

Section I: The University of Adelaide

The University

The University of Adelaide is a large University with over 13,000 students enrolled in courses offered through eleven Faculties: Agriculture and Natural Resource Sciences, Architecture and Planning, Arts, Dentistry, Economics and Commerce, Engineering, Law, Mathematical and Computer Sciences, Medicine, Performing Arts and Science. This breadth of academic areas ensures considerable choice in courses and subjects.

The University gives a high priority to the quality of its teaching. Courses encompass the latest developments in knowledge and understanding while providing a sound basis for subsequent employment, professional training and postgraduate study. In addition the University has an excellent international reputation for the quality of its research, which in turn reinforces the up to date nature of its teaching programs. Many undergraduate students pursue further studies in coursework and research at the postgraduate level. The individual welfare of students is a major institutional priority of the University and is supported by a network of staff and services which are outlined in this Guide.

The Campuses

The University of Adelaide has four campuses within the city, the metropolitan area and the nearby countryside. Several research stations and experimental facilities are within an hour's drive of the city.

North Terrace

The main campus of the University, where most research facilities and Departments are located, is on North Terrace, Adelaide, between the cultural, intellectual and commercial heart of the inner city and the parklands surrounding it. The North Terrace Campus neighbours the Museum, the Art Gallery, the State Library, the Festival Centre, the Botanic Gardens and The University of South Australia.

Roseworthy

The Roseworthy Campus of 1,260 hectares is situated on the northern Adelaide plains, fifty kilometres from the City, in a wheat and sheep area typical of southern Australia. As a part of the Faculty of Agricultural and Natural Resource Sciences, the Campus also contains a farm, stables, a plant nursery, an arboretum, an aquatic reserve, an ephemeral swamp and a fauna park.

Thebarton

The Thebarton Campus is located on the River Torrens approximately four kilometres from the North Terrace Campus. The site is being developed as a Commerce and Research Precinct, housing commercial and industrial enterprises and University research activities involving postgraduate students. The Precinct provides an opportunity for an important interface between The University of Adelaide and Australian business and industry.

Waite

The Waite Campus is situated at Glen Osmond, eight kilometres southeast of the city centre, where part of the Bachelor of Agricultural Science and postgraduate agriculture courses are taught. The Waite occupies an outstanding position in agricultural research, in Australia and overseas.

The Council and Senate

The governing body of the University is the Council, which, under Section 9 of the University Act, 'shall have the entire management and superintendence of the affairs' of the University subject to the Act and the Statutes and Regulations of the University.

The Council comprises thirty-five members including the Chancellor and Vice-Chancellor, ex officio; eight members of the academic staff, two general staff, one postgraduate student and thirteen persons not employed by the University. Of these, twenty-four are elected by the Convocation of Electors (comprising all graduates and postgraduate students of the University and all full-time staff); four members elected by the undergraduates; and five Members of Parliament elected by the Parliament of South Australia.

Under a new system of governance effective since 1992, the Council operates through a Senior Management Group comprising the Vice-Chancellor, the Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Academic), the Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Research) and the Registrar, with the advice of various committees and the support of the University's administrative officers. The four principal committees of the Council are the Academic Board, the Student Affairs Committee, the Finance Committee and the Personnel Matters Committee.

All statutes, regulations and amendments to them must be approved by the Senate, which meets each year in November, and by the Governor, before they can become effective. The Senate consists of all graduates of the University, all full-time employees of the University (who are graduates of other universities recognised by the University) and all postgraduate students.

Committees, Faculties and Boards

The Student Affairs Committee offers advice to University Council on matters of significance affecting students. It is convened jointly by the Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Academic) and a student, and about half its members are students. Students who wish to have matters raised in this committee can do so by contacting any of the student members through the Students' Association or the Postgraduate Students' Association. The Academic Board advises the Senior Management Group or Council on academic and educational policies and broad issues of concern. It has about 80 members including all Deans of Faculties and Heads of Departments, as well as elected undergraduate students and two elected postgraduate students. Information about meeting times and membership of these committees can be obtained from the University's Central Secretariat (telephone (08) 303 5871). Of more immediate impact from the students' point of view however, are the eleven Faculty Boards and the Board of Graduate Studies, which effectively control the degree and diploma courses. Subject to the authority of (or delegated to its officers by) the Council, the Faculty Boards and the Board of Graduate Studies are responsible for the structure, scope and content of University courses. As their names imply, the Finance Committee is concerned with the financial aspects of University government and the Personnel Matters Committee with the relationships between the University as an employer and its staff.

Statutes, Regulations, Rules and By-laws

For every degree and diploma course Regulations are made which establish that course. Changes in these Regulations require the approval of the University Council, the Senate, and the Governor of South Australia in Executive Council.

Details, such as subjects available and the structure of the course, are set out in Schedules made by the Council. The Schedules appear in of The University Calendar, Volume II immediately after the Regulations; they are followed by the Syllabuses for each of the subjects concerned. The Statutes, which are published in The University Calendar, Volume I govern matters other than degree or diploma courses. They require approval in the same manner as the Regulations. The University's By-laws, for contravention of which penalties are laid down, govern such matters as trespass, parking and traffic, disorderly behaviour. They also are published in The University Calendar, Volume I. Rules, made by the Council, govern the use of the library, laboratories, lecture rooms and the conduct of examinations, etc.

The Vice-Chancellor, Deputy Vice-Chancellors and Registrar

The Vice-Chancellor, Professor Gavin Brown, is the chief executive officer of the University and is supported by two full-time Deputy Vice-Chancellors and the Registrar. These four officers comprise the Council's Senior Management Group responsible for policy development and its implementation in all aspects of the University's operation.

The Registrar is directly responsible to the Vice-Chancellor for human, physical and financial resources, for ensuring the quality of administrative services and for internal and external relations. The Registrar is also the University's Public Officer. Other administrative functions the responsibility of the Deputy Vice-Chancellors: student admissions, access and services, enrolments, student records, commemorations, continuing education, aboriginal programs, the ACUE, examinations and international programs being the responsibility of the Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Academic); and graduate studies, scholarships and research being the responsibility of the Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Research).

Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander students

The Aboriginal Access Program of the University of Adelaide offers Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander students admission to all courses offered at the Roseworthy and North Terrace campuses and the Associate Diploma in Music offered by the Centre for Aboriginal Studies in Music.

The Aboriginal Education and Employment Board advises the University Council on matters relating to Aboriginal education and employment. The Director of Aboriginal Programs, Philip Morrissey, is the Executive Officer of this Board and the convener, Roger Thomas, is a member of Council.

The Coordinator of Aboriginal Programs, Lynn Larsen, assists Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander students on the North Terrace Campus. A unit has been established to provide academic and general support, a study area and a social venue. Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander students are encouraged to contact Lynn Larsen for any assistance they may require. She is currently located in Room HG 8 of the Hartley Building on Kintore Avenue (telephone (08) 303 3626). Rose Kerr, who provides administrative support for Lynn Larsen, is also available to provide study skills advice and support. He is also contactable by mobile phone on (018) 814 016.

Aboriginal Access Scheme staff at Roseworthy Campus assist Aboriginal and Islander students enrolled in land use and management courses with information, special entry, relocation (including travel and housing), tutorial support, cadetships, vacation employment and career planning.

The Coordinator, Derek Mitchell, can be contacted by telephoning (08) 303 7916 or (085) 248 318 or by fax (085) 248318, or at the PASRAC Building, Roseworthy Campus, The University of Adelaide, Roseworthy SA 5371.

Apart from an entitlement to financial support under ABSTUDY, Aboriginal students may be eligible for a wide range of traineeships and scholarships. The University has two special funds for the support of its Aboriginal students, the Reg Sprigg Aboriginal Education Assistance Fund and the Konig Bequest Award for Aboriginal Postgraduate Students. Further details relating to these funds (and other forms of financial support for Aboriginal students) are available from Lynn Larsen.

Access and Equity Programs

The University is committed to increasing its intake of students from under-represented backgrounds. The Special Entry Scheme, the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Access Scheme and the Fairway Scheme are part of the University's means of achieving this end.

The Schools and Community Liaison Officer, Graham Brookman, located on Level 4, Wills Building (telephone (08) 303 5208), is available to students seeking information and advice on these schemes.

Disabilities: support for students with disabilities

The University is committed to meeting the special needs of students with disabilities (whether temporary or permanent) and of students in special circumstances. Special arrangements are made wherever possible to assist them in their studies or with their examinations. Some ramps for wheelchairs are provided and parking places are reserved for students without full mobility. The library also has a variety of aids for students with visual disabilities. Students with disabilities intending to enrol at The University of Adelaide should contact the Disabilities Liaison Officer, Tony Frangos, who is located on the ground level in the Horace Lamb Building, telephone (08) 303 5220, to discuss their needs.

Disabilities can take many forms, including paraplegia, quadriplegia, arthritis, visual and hearing impairment and progressive conditions such as multiple sclerosis. Increasing numbers of students are also enrolling in University courses in order to re-train after contracting RSI (also known as RFS: Reverse Fatigue Syndrome).

The Disabilities Liaison Officer will discuss with you what your needs might be throughout the year: for example, special furniture, changed lecture-rooms, assistance in taking lecture notes, or special arrangements for exams.

On the enrolment form, there is an optional question regarding disability which students are encouraged to answer, as statistics on the range of disabilities and the number of students affected by them will help University staff to anticipate and provide for support networks, services and special facilities.

For further information on services, support networks and negotiating adjustments to assessment methods, refer to the University's information booklet, Handbook for Students with Disabilities, which is available from the Equal Opportunity Office, the Students' Association, the Education and Welfare Officers, the Health and Counselling Services, and the Student Administration Branch.

Health Services

All students enrolled at the University may consult the doctors at the Health Service located at Level 1, Horace Lamb Building (telephone (08) 303 5050).

Students newly enrolled at the University are encouraged to attend the Health Service to acquaint themselves with the medical staff and the services available. These include medical consultations for both acute and chronic conditions, sexual counselling and contraceptive advice, treatment of emotional problems, liaison with other welfare services and with academic and administrative staff of the University, immunisation advice (including overseas travel), sports injury management and referral for specialist medical advice. All consultations are strictly confidential.

New students with a chronic medical condition or disability are encouraged to attend the Health Service to discuss areas in which assistance can be provided.

The Health Service is currently staffed by Dr John Setchell, Director, Dr Anna Neoh, Dr Priscilla Whittle and a nursing sister. Student consultations for services attracting medical benefits are bulk-billed. Students should bring their own or their parent's Medicare card along to each consultation. Overseas students' accounts are processed through Medibank Private Insurance: the cheque received from Medibank Private is accepted as full payment by the Health Service.

The Health Service is open from Monday to Friday 9.00 am to 5.00 pm but is not available on public holidays. After-hours acute medical care can be obtained at the Emergency Departments of any public hospital.

There is an occupational health/student health nurse at Waite Campus (Sr Doreen Rae, telephone 303 37498) and at Roseworthy Campus (Sr Kerrie Barnett, telephone 303 37884).

For details of the University's policy regarding AIDS and Hepatitis B, refer to Section III of the Student Guide. This is particularly relevant to Dentistry and Medicine students.

Higher Education Contribution Scheme (HECS)

Under HECS, students who enrol in Higher education award courses, that is, any degree, diploma, associate diploma, graduate certificate, graduate diploma, advanced certificate or certificate courses, are required by the Commonwealth Government to pay a part (about one-fifth) of the cost of their courses.

The HECS charge is incurred on a semester basis, and is determined by the workload for which you are enrolled on the Census Dates: 31 March for semester 1 and 31 August for semester 2. A student studying full-time for 1994 will be liable for a HECS charge of $2,355 ($1, 177.5) per semester). For students studying part-time, or undertaking an overload, the amount is worked out on a pro-rata basis.

You can pay HECS in two ways. If you choose the 'pay now', or up-front option, you pay the institution at the time of enrolment and receive a discount. (in 1994, the discount is expected to be 25%). Please note that the discount applies only to payments made before 25 February for semester 1 or 22 July for semester 2. If you choose the 'deferred payment' option, you pay HECS through your tax in the future. The HECS booklet issued by the Australian Taxation Office explains how the deferred payment option works.

HECS affects each student differently depending on the payment option, course load etc. Students are strongly advised to refer to the HECS booklet. Copies of the booklet are available from the Enrolment Centre, the Student Records Office and the Students' Association Office. There will also be a HECS help desk at the Enrolment Centre staffed by the Australian Taxation Office. After the enrolment period, contact the Student Records Office for advice and information on HECS. There have been a number of changes to the HECS legislation, so it is important for both new and continuing students, even those who are not intending to change their HECS payment option, to obtain the current HECS booklet.

Insurance

The Union subscribes to an Accident Insurance Scheme administered on the Union's behalf by the Executive Officer of the Sports Association from whom details are available. Broadly, the Scheme covers all members of the Union (and Sports Association) for medical and dental costs as a result of an accident incurred as a direct result of participation in activities organised by those bodies, as well as those organised by the University, up to a limit of $3,500 after receipt of health insurance rebates other than that from Medicare. The Scheme is not permitted to meet the gap between basic Medicare rebates and actual fees paid, however, all other costs are covered. Loss of earning is also covered. Members must meet the first $20 of claimable expenses.

When a member has an accident likely to result in lodgement of a claim, a notification of accident form must be lodged within seven days of occurrence with the Sports Association Office. Claims are normally lodged after the completion of treatment, payment of accounts and receipt of health insurance rebates. Claim forms are available from the Sports Association Office and Sports Club Secretaries.

The University has a Security Office located at the Hughes Plaza Office, open 24 hours a day seven days a week. Security can be contacted by phoning 35990 from any phone in the University or (08) 303 5990 if outside. All Security Attendants are uniformed and carry identification and authorisation.

Security Attendants are available to escort people at any stage of the day or night who prefer not to walk alone through the University or wish to be escorted to the railway station, bus stops or to Residential Colleges.

All emergencies within the University at any time of the day or night should be reported on extension 35990, including the urgent need for medical attention. Most Security Attendants have a First Aid Certificate.

Course Advice (prospective students)

Students who are applying for University courses and need advice on the options available to them can contact the Course Adviser, who assists students who would like to discuss the range of courses available and whether the courses meet their interests and aspirations. Both prospective students seeking entry to the University and students who have enrolled but are still uncertain about their choice of course are welcome to consult the Course Adviser. The Course Adviser also coordinates enrolments, and can provide information on the enrolments process. (note: For advice and signatures relating to specific courses and for amendments to enrolment, please consult your Faculty Course Adviser(s)).

For details of graduation ceremonies for students intending to complete their courses in the current year, including procedures for application, refer to the heading 'Graduation/Commemoration ceremonies' in Section II.

Higher Education Contribution Scheme (HECS)

The Student Administration Branch is responsible for administering HECS on behalf of the University and for providing data on students' enrolment to the Australian Taxation Office.

You can obtain published information about how HECS works from the Student Records Office, Level 5, Wills Building. Please note, however, that the Student Records Office maintains the details of students' HECS liability only for the current year. For further information about your HECS liability, contact the Australian Taxation Office.

Publications for students

Various publications are produced by the Branch (in collaboration with Faculties and other administrative units of the University) which provide information about courses, services and careers to students. They can be consulted on Level 4, Wills Building. The Calendar Volume II: Handbook of Courses and the Student Guide can be purchased at Unibooks.

School and Community Liaison Office

Academic Transcripts

All students, past or present, of the University may apply at any time for a statement of their academic record. Information about the Academic Transcripts and the fees applicable may be obtained on request from the Student Records Office.

All information supplied by a student for University purposes and all details of a student's academic record are regarded as confidential. Accordingly, Academic Transcripts are issued only on request, in writing, by the student concerned, or with his/her consent. The academic record and the student correspondence file may, on request and under supervision of the Head, Student Administration Branch, be inspected by the student concerned.

Change of Address/Telephone Number

Students who change their semester or permanent home address (or telephone number) should immediately notify the Student Records Office in writing. You can call in person at the Student Records Office, Level 5, of the Wills Building, and complete a 'Change of Personal Details' form. This will ensure that you receive all future notices, refund of Union Fees (if applicable), notification of results, etc without delay.

Change of Name

A student's name is initially recorded as the name given by the student on first enrolling. That name may not be changed unless students provide documentary evidence of their legal name. If you wish to change your name with the University, lodge a 'Change of Personal details' form with the Student Records Office, accompanied by the appropriate documentary evidence (eg birth certificate, marriage certificate, passport etc). Please note that the Student Records Office must sight either the original documentation or certified copies.

Student Exchange Programs

The University has exchange agreements with a number of overseas institutions providing students with the opportunity to undertake part of their degree in another country. Agreements currently exist with the University of California, Washington State University, College of William and Mary and Indiana University in the United States; several Universities in Japan, including Meiji University in Tokyo; Chungnam University in Korea; and Shandong University in the People's Republic of China. There are also a number of agreements with overseas institutions specific to particular disciplines (eg business management, geology and agriculture) in a range of countries in Europe, Asia and North America. The number of exchange agreements is expanding rapidly.

Information about the exchange programs and study abroad generally are available from the International Programs Office, Old Classics Wing (entry via Level 7, Wills Building). Telephone (08) 303 5252.

Student Mail

All students are assigned a mailbox for internal mail. At the time of enrolment, students are asked to nominate (on the enrolment form) the department where they would like to receive their mail. You can change your mail box location up to 24 February 1994 by lodging a 'Change of Personal Details' form with the Student Records Office but please note that no changes will be acceptable after that date. Check your mailbox regularly as important information is often sent through the internal mail.

Textbooks

Lists of textbooks and reference books are no longer included in The Calendar Volume II: Handbook of Courses, except in courses where it is necessary for accreditation purposes. These courses are the degrees of Bachelor of Laws and Bachelor of Dental Surgery. However, students are advised that up-to-date lists of required textbooks for each subject are available from their departments.

The Union

The Union is governed by its Board consisting of students elected directly from the student body and a staff representative. The Union controls the annual disbursement of the funds from the Statutory Fee and provides students' amenities.

The Union provides catering facilities including several refectories and coffee shops, a licensed bar, squash courts, an art gallery, a studio and various sized meeting rooms, for the use of its members. An extensive activities program is also organised.

Students studying at the Roseworthy Campus of the University are also members of the Roseworthy Student Union. All aspects of membership of the Adelaide University Union apply equally to students at Roseworthy such as membership of clubs and societies, activities, representation and catering.

Enquiries about the Union's wide range of services can be made to the Union Office in the Lady Symon Building, telephone (08) 303 5401 or at the Roseworthy Student Union Building, telephone (08) 303 7810 or (08) 303 7809.

Section III: rules and procedures

AIDS/Hepatitis B

The University has a policy regarding AIDS and Hepatitis B which states that all students, staff and visitors are guaranteed the following protection:

- the right to confidentiality
- a study or work environment free from discrimination and harassment
- access to clearly defined grievance procedures.

Information is provided by the University Health Service, the Counselling Centre and the Education/Welfare Officers.

The Faculty of Dentistry and the Faculty of Medicine requires that all undergraduate and post-graduate students entering the Faculty for the first time must attend the University Health Service at the beginning of their first term for advice regarding investigation of their Hepatitis B status and subsequent Hepatitis B immunisation. Counselling on 'duty of care' in relation to infectious diseases is provided.

All clinical students are required to abide by those hygiene rules laid down by the clinics and hospitals which they attend.

Assessment Procedures

Please note that brief details of the assessment procedures for all subjects are given in the relevant syllabuses which are outlined in The University of Adelaide Calendar, Volume II. Precise details of the assessment methods should be determined no later than two weeks after the commencement of the subject and will be available from the Department concerned. These will include the methods of examination and assessment in that subject and the relative weights given to the various components (eg those of the following that are relevant: assessments, semester or mid-year tests, essays or other written or practical work, final written examinations or viva voce examinations). In many subjects, but not all, students are given an opportunity to redeem any assessed work that has been failed.

Undergraduate students

For information and advice on assessment matters contact your subject coordinator, Head of Department, Faculty Course Adviser, Faculty Registrar or the Students' Association. Names, phone numbers and locations of the Faculty Registrars are listed in the front of this Guide.

Postgraduate students

For information and advice on supervision and related matters, contact your Supervisor, Departmental Postgraduate Coordinator, the Dean of Graduate Studies or the Postgraduate Students Association.

There is also a publication called The University of Adelaide Code of Practice which all postgraduate students will receive. If you do not receive a copy, please contact the Graduate Studies Branch to obtain one.

Assessment Policy and Appeals

The Assessment Policy establishes recognised principles and procedures under which Departments conduct assessment of students' work, and under which students may claim a review of an assessment mark or seek resolution of a grievance to do with assessment or academic status for work done elsewhere. The general principles are largely a statement of existing practices in the University: they are not all completely applicable to every course or discipline, and some Faculties and Departments follow additional assessment principles which are appropriate to them but not necessarily relevant to the whole University.

Departmental Assessment Committees will provide an appropriate forum within which staff and students may periodically review assessment processes and make recommendations to the Head of Department, and where disputes may be resolved. The Student Academic Appeals Committee is required to deal with assessment and other grievances that have not been resolved at Departmental level. Its role is primarily to ensure due process and fairness: in assessment appeals it would not override the academic judgment of academic staff expert in a subject, but it may on occasions need to moderate the judgement of one expert with that of others. If the basic principles and procedures in assessment are followed at the Departmental level, there should seldom be grounds on which a student could justifiably appeal.

It is assumed that students will exercise their right to appeal in assessment matters responsibly. That is, appeals will be confined to cases where students genuinely believe they have reasonable grounds for expecting a higher mark. If the procedures are exploited merely in the hope of improving marks, the extra assessment load could become so burdensome that the right of appeal would have to be reviewed.

General Assessment Policy Principles

- 1 Types of assessed work should be appropriate to the learning objectives of the subject.
- 2 As much assessed work as possible should be discussed with the students who produced it, and where appropriate returned with written comments, to provide feedback about their strengths and weaknesses.
- 3 The total burden of assessed work should not be such as to affect students' approaches to learning in ways that are inconsistent with the learning objectives of the subject.
- 4 In many disciplines, there are a variety of ways in which students may demonstrate their understanding and mastery of subject matter and techniques. Where this is compatible with the need to assess various objectives, students should be given some choice in the types of work they submit, or the relative weight of different components. In some disciplines it will be appropriate for students to have some choice in the particular subject matter they focus on.
- 5 Departments should, with the active participation of students, periodically review the methods of assessment, the relative importance and validity of different types of assessment, the range of choice and the quantity of work required.
- 6 Students should have the opportunity to undertake supplementary assessment if they fail a subject, provided that they have made a reasonable effort, and it is considered that they have a reasonable possibility of passing at the second attempt (for further information, refer to the entry under 'Supplementary examinations' below). Where a substantial piece of work submitted during the teaching of a subject is judged below pass standard, students should have the opportunity of submitting another piece of work for assessment.
- 7 Departments are required to inform all students in writing, either before or within the first two weeks of the teaching of each subject, precisely what its assessment requirements are, including any choices, deadlines, opportunity for re-submission or supplementary assessment etc. Opportunity should be given for students to ask questions and discuss the modes of assessment.

- 8 Where practicable, assessment procedures should be designed to allow for the participation of more than one assessor for each student. (It is recognised that many specialist subjects in the later years of courses are taught and assessed by one person. Departmental moderation of standards is advisable to ensure maintenance of comparability. )
- 9 Departments should take steps to ensure accuracy and to guard against bias. Checking of additions, and of the assessment of students with marks at the borderline between assessment grades, should be standard procedure. Anonymity of work submitted may be desirable as a protection against bias.

Assessment Procedures and Appeals

1 Departmental Assessment Committees

- 1 All Departments shall have an Assessment Committee consisting of staff and students; it may be an existing sub-committee of the Departmental Committee with other functions as well. (In small Departments it could appropriately be the Departmental Committee itself. )
- 2 The Committee should be primarily concerned with giving advice and making recommendations on assessment matters, including assessment disputes. Every staff member and student has the right to refer any assessment matter to this Committee.
- 3 The Committee shall be concerned with assessment in course-work subjects, not theses or research projects.
- 4 The Committee shall periodically review assessment schemes and procedures, and their relationship to course aims.
- 5 The Committee may receive complaints from staff or students relating to assessment schemes, the way an assessment scheme or procedure has been administered or the fairness of assessments actually made. (For appeals procedures against particular assessments, see Appeals below)
- 6 The Committee shall act as a lower tribunal in hearing allegations of offences against Statute Chapter XVII or against particular Faculty or Departmental rules concerning assessment.

2 Right to Request Review of Assessment

- 1 Where qualitative judgement is involved in assessment, a student may request that a piece of work assessed by one person be re-assessed, if, after discussing the piece of work and the mark with the assessor, the student remains aggrieved about the mark awarded.
- 2 In the first instance the request should be made to the lecturer in charge of the subject. If, after discussing the result with the lecturer, the student still wishes to have it re-assessed, the lecturer in charge should arrange for this to be done by a different person in the Department or elsewhere in the University, wherever this is practicable.

- 3 If the assessor is the only person assessing the subject, the student may make the request to the Head of Department, who should appoint a second assessor, unless there is no appropriately qualified person available.
- 4 The second assessor shall independently mark the piece of work. The two assessors shall then compare marks and endeavour to reach an agreed mark. If the two cannot agree, the Head of Department shall decide what mark shall be awarded.
- 5 If a student is denied a request for a second assessor, the student may take the matter to the Departmental Assessment Committee.
- 6 The Departmental Assessment Committee shall consider whether the student's grounds for requesting a second assessor are sufficient, and if so, advise the Head of Department to appoint a second assessor. If there is no appropriately qualified person available within the University, the Head, after consulting the lecturer in charge of a subject, shall ask an appropriate person outside the University to re-assess the work.
- 7 Where two or more staff members teach a subject, in which qualitative judgement forms a significant part of the assessment, at least two assessors should, whenever practicable, take part in the assessment of each student. No student should be given a Fail for such a subject unless two assessors have assessed at least part of that student's work, and agree that a Fail classification is appropriate.
- 8 A student who has been denied a request by the Departmental Assessment Committee for a second assessor may appeal to the Student Academic Appeals Committee (see following).

3 Assessment Appeals

- 1 Any student dissatisfied with the final grade awarded for a subject should discuss the result with the lecturer in charge of the subject as soon as possible after being notified of the result. If the student is still not satisfied with the result, he or she may lodge an appeal with the Head of Department.
- 2 The Head of Department may endeavour to resolve the matter, or may refer it directly to the Departmental Assessment Committee. The student shall in any case have the right to take the matter to the Assessment Committee.
- 3 The Committee shall consider the appeal, discussing the matter with the student, the Head of Department and all staff members who have participated in assessing the subject, and may seek advice from other persons as it thinks fit.
- 4 The Committee shall make a recommendation to the Head of Department who shall either accept it or refer it to the full Departmental Committee for further advice and shall inform the student of the Department's decision.
- 5 Where the examining body is a Faculty Board of Examiners, the student should discuss the result with the convener of the Board of Examiners, and may appeal to the Faculty Student Matters Committee.

- 6 A student who believes he or she has not been justly dealt with by the foregoing process may appeal to the Student Academic Appeals Committee.

4 Preclusion

Please refer to the chapter on 'Review of Academic Progress' included in this booklet.

5 Student Academic Appeals Committee

- 1 Students shall have the right to appeal against final grades for subjects, and committee decisions concerning assessment procedures. (The Student Academic Appeals Committee shall not hear appeals relating to misconduct. )

- 2 The following appeals policy and procedures do not apply to the progress or examination of postgraduate theses or research projects, for which the appeal body is the Board of Graduate Studies.

- 3 The Student Academic Appeals Committee shall be composed as follows:

- two members of Council who are not employees or students of the University;
- two members of the academic staff who are not members of the Department or Departments concerned in the appeal;
- two students who are not enrolled for subjects in the Department or Departments concerned in the appeal.

For appeals concerning administrative operations of the University, a nominee of the Registrar shall be added to the Committee.

- 4 The Council shall appoint the two Council members, one of them to be Convener of the Committee. The Vice-Chancellor shall nominate six members of the academic staff and, in consultation with the Students' Association, six students to a pool of potential Committee members. On notification by a student of intention to appeal, the Secretary of the Student Academic Appeals Committee shall select two academic and two student representatives from this pool in accordance with the restriction specified above.

- 5 An appeal against a decision shall be heard after the student concerned gives notice in writing of intention to appeal. Notice of appeal must give all relevant information regarding attempts which have been made to have the decision changed, and state the grounds for the appeal. Where there is no evidence that the matter has been previously taken to the appropriate Departmental or Faculty Committee the appeal will not be heard.

- 6 Adequate notification of the date of meeting shall be given both to the student and to the Department or Faculty defending the appeal.

- 7 The student may ask a Student Counsellor, another student, a staff member or an officer of a Students' Association, to assist in presenting the appeal.

- 8 The Appeals Committee shall determine its own procedures, but shall not itself re-assess a student's work which may be in dispute. If satisfied that there are sufficient grounds for so doing, it may order that a piece of work be re-assessed by a person with appropriate expertise outside the Department concerned, selected in consultation with the Head of Department.

- 9 The Academic Appeals Committee may refuse to continue hearing an appeal or complaint if it decides that the appeal or complaint is vexatious or malicious.

note: Malicious or persistently vexatious appeals or complaints against individual members of the academic staff, or against Departments may be treated as misconduct, and the student may be proceeded against by an affected member of the University, or by the Student Academic Appeals Committee, under the provisions of Chapter XII of the Statutes, which state that:

‘misconduct means any... unjustified act or omission of a student which adversely affects the University or any member of the University in his or her capacity as such’.

Class Attendance

Students are normally required to attend lectures, tutorials, laboratory or other practical work or field work.

Departments vary in the emphasis they place on attendance at classes and students who may wish to know a Department’s policy in this regard are advised to check with the Department at the beginning of the year.

Students who are not permitted to sit an examination for assessment in a subject because of unsatisfactory attendance or unsatisfactory work will have a ‘fail’ recorded for that subject.

Computing Facilities

1 General

Computing facilities provided by the University for students are primarily for use in association with a course of study and activities related to that course.

It is expected that all students will make use of University computing facilities in a manner which is ethical, legal and does not interfere with use by others.

Failure to abide by the following rules will be treated as misconduct and may result in disciplinary action.

2 Rules for students

- (a) You may use only those facilities which have been authorised for your use. If access is protected by a password, you may not make this password available to others. You may not use any account set up for another user, nor may you attempt to find out the password of another user.
- (b) You may only use authorised facilities for authorised purposes. For example, facilities made available for learning and teaching may not be used for private purposes.
- (c) You may not copy any software unless it is your own, or it is public domain software, or the copying has been authorised by the University. In practice, there will be very few situations in which it is permitted to copy software. If in doubt, do not copy.
- (d) You may not attempt to copy information belonging to other users (whether they be staff, students or others) without their express permission.
- (e) You may not attempt to interfere with the operation of computing facilities.
- (f) You may not attempt to subvert the security of any of the University’s computing facilities.
- (g) You may not use the University’s computing facilities to send obscene, offensive or harassing messages.

3 Breach of Rules

- (a) Failure to observe these requirements could mean that an action for misconduct will be brought against you. The University's Board of Conduct has the power to impose a fine of up to $100 or suspend a student's right to use any University facility for up to one year. It can also recommend to Council that a student be suspended or expelled from the University.,
- (b) Misconduct that amounts to sexual harassment may be dealt with by the University's Sexual Harassment Committee. Some types of harassment or offensive conduct may be in breach of the Equal Opportunities Act.
- (c) Some forms of conduct may be criminal offences. These include hacking, theft, and unauthorised copying. Using a password protected computer system without authority could result in a fine of up to $2000 and imprisonment. Sending an offensive message may also be a criminal offence.
- (d) Some conduct, in particular unauthorised copying, could result in civil legal action being taken against you.
- (e) Academic staff have a general power to dismiss students from their classes if they consider the student is disrupting the class; and a Chairman of department may exclude any student from any class in that department 'for any cause he or she shall deem sufficient'. (Such exclusion may be reversed, varied or confirmed by University Council).
- (f) Breaches or suspected breaches of the rules should be reported to a supervisor, the Chairman of the relevant Local Management Group, or the Director, University Computing Services.

Course Overloads

Students who contemplate undertaking more than a normal course load must obtain approval of their course from their Faculty's Course Adviser. If a student is enrolled in two Faculties, approval of one adviser from each Faculty is required.

If the extra subject or subjects are not included in the Schedules of their courses, students may be charged non-award tuition fees.

Students should be aware of the full implications of their choice to take a course overload and they may wish to discuss the question with a member of the University's Counselling Service staff or an Education/Welfare Officer.

Enrolments

Particulars of general procedures for enrolment may be found in an instruction leaflet which commencing students received with their South Australian Tertiary Admission Centre (SATAC) offer, and continuing students with their 1992 academic results. Students who have not received a copy of the SATAC leaflet may obtain one from Student Records, Level 5, Wills Building. Specific enrolment procedures required by each Faculty will be published and available during the enrolment period.

Students who are unable to be in Adelaide during the enrolment period may authorise, in writing, another person to enrol on their behalf. However, students are strongly advised to lodge their enrolments in person.

An enrolment lodged outside the enrolment period may be subject to a $50 late fee (see University Charges).

Enrolment and amendment to enrolment

Students who have lodged an enrolment form will have their enrolment recorded in the University's official records in accordance with the information they have provided on that form. Re-enrolling students who owe fees or charges or have Library commitments will not be permitted to re-enrol until the outstanding obligations have been met. Students wishing to add, withdraw from, or alter subjects, must obtain an 'Amendment to Enrolment Form' from their Faculty's Course Adviser, Faculty Registrar or from the Student Records Office. The form must then be completed, approved in accordance with the relevant Faculty procedures and lodged at the Faculty office.

Students should note that, after their initial enrolment, it will not be possible to change any of their enrolment details before Orientation week, except on one day only, the 15 February. This may affect entry into quota subjects and restrict your timetable alternatives. If you are unsure about any of your subject choices you should discuss the matter with a Faculty Course Adviser.

Withdrawal dates

If you withdraw from your course completely before 31 March, your enrolment will be deleted. If you withdraw from Semester 1 or full year subjects before 31 March or from Semester 2 subjects before 31 August your enrolment in these subjects will be deleted. (note: 'Deletion' means that your enrolment in that course or subject will not be recorded on your official transcript.)

Students who fully withdraw from their course by 31 March but who wish to pursue the option of studying in the course in the following year must advise the South Australian Tertiary Admission Centre (SATAC) that they wish to defer their offer of admission.

The last dates for withdrawing from subjects without the withdrawal counting as a failure are as follows:

semester 1 subjects .....the end of the ninth teaching week of the semester (excluding the mid-semester break), 13 May 1994.

semester 2 subjects .....the end of the ninth teaching week of the semester (excluding the mid-semester break), 7 October 1994.

full year subjects.....the end of the fourth week of second semester, 19 August 1994.

The last date for withdrawing from subjects is as follows:

semester 1 subjects .....the last day of semester 1, 10 June 1994.

semester 2 subjects .....the last day of semester 2, 4 November 1994.

full year subjects .....the last day of semester 2, 4 November 1994.

Students should realise the importance of this matter in relation to the annual review of academic progress conducted by Faculties. Withdrawals which are regarded as failures may result in students being precluded from taking further studies in their course.

Students who may be contemplating withdrawing are strongly advised to consider carefully all the relevant factors before reaching a decision. In particular, before deciding to withdraw completely, they should investigate whether, with suitable available assistance or modification of their course, they might be able to continue their studies. They may find it helpful first to consult one or more of the following: their Faculty Course Adviser; their Faculty Registrar; the University Health Service; The Counselling Service or the Education/Welfare Officers. With the exception of the Faculty Course Advisers, the names, locations and telephone numbers of these officers are contained at the front of this Guide.

Examinations

Most examinations are held in June, July and November. (Please refer to the 'Principal Dates' at the beginning of this booklet.)

Timetables indicating dates, times and locations of examinations are posted on the noticeboard in the undercroft of the Napier Building, North Terrace Campus, and the Student Notice Board at the Roseworthy Campus.

Notification of results

All students are notified of their results by post. Please note that Notification of Results are sent to the home address, not the semester address. This is particularly relevant to International students or students planning to travel.

Rules for the conduct of examinations

- 1 No candidate shall enter the examination room during any examination more than forty minutes after the time fixed for the beginning of the reading period of the examination except with the consent of a Supervisor.
- 2 No candidate shall be allowed to leave the examination room during any examination before forty minutes have elapsed from the commencement of the reading period of the examination except with the consent of a Supervisor.
- 3 1 A candidate who wishes to leave the room temporarily must obtain the consent of a Supervisor before doing so.
2 A candidate who leaves the examination room may be permitted to return to it during that examination only at the absolute discretion of a Supervisor.
- 4 1 When the five-minute warning before the end of the examination is given, all candidates shall remain seated until their examination papers have been collected.
2 All candidates shall remain seated until all examination papers have been collected and an announcement is made by a Supervisor that candidates may leave the room.

It is recommended that students carefully read the Statutes, Chapter XVII of 'Examinations and Other Forms of Assessment'.

Special arrangements

A student whose performance in an examination could be affected by a physical condition of a permanent or temporary nature should consult the Student Health Service as soon as possible.

Students who are unable to sit examinations on certain days or times because of their religious beliefs should contact the Examinations Officer, Julie Gareffa, on Level 5, Wills Building as soon as possible (telephone (08) 303 5209).

Grievance Procedures

In 1990 the University adopted the following procedures for dealing with student complaints in a range of areas, including academic programs, individual staff members and administrative operations and decisions. In 1992 the University Council adopted an additional set of policies and procedures for the resolution of grievances by postgraduate students. A review of the Grievance Procedures is currently being considered by the Student Affairs Committee and the Education Committee which is planned to be adopted by mid 1994.

For information and advice about the lodging of complaints students should consult the Students' Association, a Student Counsellor, the Head of Department, a Faculty Course Adviser or their Faculty Registrar.

A Complaints relating to academic programs and status

- 1 Students may raise a problem or issue relating to academic programs, eg, the content or structure of a subject, or of a whole course, or its means of assessment, or academic status for work done elsewhere, in the appropriate academic committee through one of their student representatives, or by personal approach to the Secretary or Convener of the relevant body, ie:
  - the Departmental Committee
  - the Departmental Assessment Committee
  - the Faculty Curriculum Committee
  - the Faculty
  - the Faculty Student Applications/Matters Committee.
- 2 Alternatively, a student may make a specific and formal complaint about such a matter, to the person or body with immediate responsibility.

If a student decides that it is appropriate to raise the issue as a complaint, he or she should complain to:

- (a) the subject coordinator, for complaints relating to a particular subject;
  - (b) the Head of Department, for complaints relating to a Department's subjects and academic procedures generally;
  - (c) the Dean of the Faculty for complaints relating more generally to a course, or faculty policies concerning curriculum, teaching or assessment.
- 3 Oral complaints shall be dealt with informally.
  - 4 With written complaints, the person receiving the written complaint shall acknowledge its receipt in writing within one week, and shall reply within one month informing students of the outcome of the complaint, or stating what progress has been made and when the next report to the student(s) will be made, and so on, until the matter is resolved. Where a complaint has a particular impact on individual staff member(s) responsible for a subject, they shall be kept fully informed as to the progress of the matter.
  - 5 Responsibility for dealing with the complaint may be transferred to a Head of Department, Faculty Course Coordinator or Convener of a Faculty Curriculum Committee or Student Matters Committee, but the student must be kept informed as to who has carriage of the matter at any time.

- 6 If the matter is not resolved to the satisfaction of the complainant he/she may appeal to the Student Academic Appeals Committee which, if it agrees that it requires further consideration, may refer it back to the Faculty or to the Academic (Educational) Matters Sub-Committee.

B Complaints relating to individual staff members

- 1 Students should direct grievances about individual staff members (for example, unsatisfactory teaching, unsatisfactory relationship with a staff member) orally to the staff member concerned in the first instance, if possible. Most grievances can be resolved quickly with direct discussion between the student(s) and the lecturer. Complaints by postgraduate research students concerning their supervisor or Head of Department or otherwise pertaining to their status as research students shall be dealt with according to the procedures of the Board of Graduate Studies.

For more information on procedures for postgraduate students see page 41 of this Guide.

Students and staff may enlist the aid of a disinterested third party to assist in these discussions (for example, Student Counsellor, Director - Equal Opportunity, a student representative on the Departmental Committee or on the Faculty).

- 2 If it is not feasible to approach the staff member directly and informally as above, or if there has been no satisfactory resolution from the direct and informal contact, then the student(s) may lodge a complaint in writing with the staff member's Head of Department (where the Head of Department is the person complained about, the student may lodge the complaint with the Dean of the Faculty*). This document shall state the evidence on which the complaint rests.

(*note: Where the words 'Head of Department' occur they may be read as 'Dean of the Faculty' where this is appropriate. )

- 3 Students may complain orally to the Head of Department. Where a complaint is made orally the Head of Department shall make a written note of the complaint and communicate it to the staff member concerned. If the Head of Department believes that the complaint warrants investigation he or she may ask the student to put the complaint in writing.
- 4 The Head shall acknowledge receipt of the complaint within five working days, inform the staff member complained about and shall deal with the complaint as expeditiously as possible. Within one month of receipt, the student(s) shall be informed in writing of the outcome of the complaint, or what progress has been made and when the next written advice as to progress/outcome will be given, and so on until the matter is resolved. This does not preclude face-to-face meetings between the student(s) and the staff member, which may be convened by the Head or other person requested by the Head to assist.
- 5 Victimisation of students who lodge complaints is prohibited. The Head of Department will counsel the staff member accordingly. If the students fear they may be victimised, they may request the Head to make arrangements to protect the students' interests - including allocating the students to other classes, moderating the assessment, etc. The Director, Equal Opportunity, is available to advise students, staff and Heads of Departments about such arrangements.

Confidentiality

- 6 Students must state whether or not their identities are to be kept confidential from the staff member. If a student requests that his or her identity be kept confidential from the staff member, then;
  - 1 If the matter can be resolved with the identity being kept confidential, then the student's name or any other information which will identify her or him shall be withheld from the staff member.
  - 2 If in the opinion of the Head of Department the matter cannot be resolved with the identity of the student being kept confidential, then the student must agree to lifting the requirement for confidentiality, or else the complaint shall lapse (because it cannot proceed). The Head of Department shall take into account whether or not the staff member can properly defend him or herself without knowing the identity of a complainant.

Outcomes

  - 1 The Head of Department shall inform the student(s) who lodged the complaint, and the staff member concerned, of the final outcome.
  - 2 Furthermore, the Head of Department shall consider whether there are any other students who might have been affected by the same complaint, and who should benefit from the same outcome.
  - 3 A staff member dissatisfied by the Head of Department's determination of a complaint may appeal to the Vice-Chancellor.
- 8 If students are not satisfied with the outcome or progress with dealing with the complaint, then they may complain in writing to the Registrar. The same response schedule then applies as above.

Record keeping

  - 1 For oral complaints which are satisfactorily resolved with nothing in writing, no records shall be kept.
  - 2 File records relating to a complaint which is not yet resolved shall be maintained by the Head of the Department.
  - 3 For written complaints for which there is an outcome which reflects adversely on the staff member's performance, all records which relate to the complaint shall be placed on the staff member's personal file. Where this occurs, the staff member shall be given a copy of the record and entitled to attach his or her own comments.
  - 4 For written complaints for which there is an outcome which does not reflect adversely on the staff member's performance, all records which relate to the complaint shall be destroyed. Furthermore, if the complaint has become public, then the Head of Department shall take action to update and correct the public record.
  - 5 Apart from the records defined in 9. 2 and 9. 3 no other records shall be kept that identify the staff member concerned.

C Complaints concerning administrative operations or decisions of the University or of some Department, Unit, Branch, etc thereof

- 1 Students should direct complaints concerning some administrative action, inaction, procedure or decision orally to the person with immediate responsibility in the first instance (or the person likely to have responsibility for this function, if the situation is not clear).
- 2 The officer or other employee of the University approached shall ascertain the nature of the complaint or problem, and either take immediate steps to have it rectified, or refer the matter to the officer with the authority to investigate the matter and if necessary initiate reform or redress. This shall be done either by referring the student directly to the superior officer, or by informing the officer in writing of the complaint, and informing the student to whom the complaint has been referred.
- 3 The person who accepts responsibility for investigating the complaint shall inform the student within a reasonable time whether it is accepted that the complaint has substance, and if so, what is being done by way of redress and/or rectification. If the matter remains under consideration for a prolonged period, the student shall be kept informed of progress, and of the final outcome.
- 4 If a complaint was found to have substance, the officer who took responsibility for dealing with it shall consider whether other students' interests could be, or could have been, affected by the problem experienced by the complaining student. The officer shall take whatever steps are practicable to ensure equitable treatment, and shall also recommend any changes to procedures which might prevent a recurrence of the problem.
- 5 A student dissatisfied with the outcome of such a complaint may appeal to the Student Academic Appeals Committee.

D Complaints relating to a grade for assessed work

The procedures relating to complaints in relation to grades are provided in the section 'Assessment Procedures' in this booklet.

E Complaints relating to sexual harassment

The procedures relating to Sexual Harassment are outlined in the section 'Sexual Harassment' in this booklet.

F Complaints relating to equal opportunity issues

The procedures relating to Equal Opportunity are outlined in the section 'Equal Opportunity' in this booklet.

G Grievance procedures for postgraduate students

The Grievance Procedures for postgraduate students appears in the University's Code of Practice which has a reference in the Administrative Handbook - Sub-section 10. 16. All postgraduate students will be provided with a copy of the Administrative Handbook.

Intellectual property produced by students

It is the intention of the University to encourage students to be creative in their pursuit of scholarship, to publish the results of their research and make them widely available.

If no employment contract exists between the University and a student, the student owns his/her intellectual property.

Intellectual property is mainly that property which is capable of being legally protected and includes: patentable and non-patentable inventions; registrable designs; trade marks; works subject to copyright (including written or audio-visual material and computer software); trade secrets relating to know-how and preliminary arrangements for commercial development; proprietary rights granted under the Plant Variety Rights Act subject to any special policy developed with respect to such rights. Mere ideas and suggestions are not usually regarded as intellectual property.

The University's policy on commercial development of intellectual property provides that a student can be required to enter a confidentiality agreement in respect of his/her research. In cases where the research projects are deemed to have commercial potential, the University considers that it would be appropriate for a student to assign to the University his/her rights to the intellectual property arising from the research in the same manner as University staff. In fact other staff members, such as a student's supervisor, may be unwilling to allow a student to undertake research in a potentially sensitive area without themselves receiving the protection of the student being subject to the same conditions as other staff members.

Recognising that the University cannot simply lay claim to a student's contribution without the student's agreement, it is nonetheless required that a student enter into an agreement for the assignment of his/her intellectual property to the University as a condition of the student's research topic being accepted. A sample of this agreement (Student Project Participation Agreement) can be found in Attachment F of the University's Code of Practice.

If a student wishes to work in an area that his/her supervisor or Head of Department believes is commercially sensitive or has commercial potential, he/she must agree to sign the Student Project Participation Agreement. If the student does not wish to do so, he/she would be free to choose another research topic which is less commercially sensitive.

The University's interest is only in that intellectual property produced by students which is connected with other intellectual property being produced within the University itself by staff and other researchers. The University, in accordance with its policy on ownership of intellectual property produced by students (sub-section 10. 13 of the Handbook on Administrative Policies and Procedures), does not intend to make assignments of intellectual property compulsory for all students and would, under normal circumstances, only apply such policies to postgraduate students.

The policy on commercial development of the University's intellectual property also provides certain safeguards to a student's candidacy in respect of confidentiality requirements which must be adhered to in any contracts.

The University will endeavour to encourage students to develop commercially viable intellectual property by offering the services of Luminis Pty Ltd in assessing, protecting and prosecuting the commercial application of the intellectual property. Students who propose to develop their intellectual property commercially outside the University are encouraged to inform the University of their intentions, and to obtain a statement from the University that it does not claim an interest in the property, before they seek outside development support.

Laboratory Rules

The University of Adelaide recognises its obligation to take all reasonable precautions to safeguard the health, safety and welfare of its employees and students while they are at work. The University also believes that students leaving this University must take with them an attitude which accepts good health and safety practice as normal.

To this end, Laboratory Conduct Procedures have been developed and must be adhered to by all who work in laboratories. Students who fail to comply with these procedures will not be allowed to work in the laboratory. General laboratory rules include:

- no eating, drinking or application of cosmetics in laboratories
- closed-in footwear must be worn at all times (bare feet, thongs and sandals are prohibited)
- laboratory coats, or gowns tied at the back, must be worn
- aisles must be kept free from obstructions.

A copy of the Laboratory Conduct Procedures is available from Department Secretaries, Department Health and Safety Officers, or the Occupational Health and Safety Unit.

Plagiarism and related forms of cheating

Statement and Definition of Plagiarism and Related Forms of Cheating

- 1 Plagiarism is expressly prohibited by Statute Chapter XVII 'Of Examinations and Assessment' (the full text of the Statute is printed in The University of Adelaide Calendar Volume I) which states under Section 2:

'No candidate shall submit for assessment, whether by examination or otherwise, any piece of work which is not entirely the candidate's own, except where either:

- (a) use of the words or ideas of others is appropriate and is duly acknowledged, or
- (b) the examiner has given prior permission for joint or collaborative work to be submitted. '

- 2 Plagiarism consists of a person using the words or ideas of another as if they were his or her own. The University regards plagiarism as a very serious offence. At the very least it is a misuse of academic conventions; where it is deliberate and systematic, plagiarism is cheating and false pretences. It is the obligation of every member of the University to understand and respect the rules concerning plagiarism; the excuse of ignorance will not be accepted.

- 3 Plagiarism can take several forms:

- (i) presenting substantial extracts from books, articles, theses, and other published or unpublished works such as working papers, seminar and conference papers, internal reports, computer software, lecture notes or tapes, and other students' work, without clearly indicating their origin with quotation marks and references such as footnotes;
- (ii) using very close paraphrasing of sentences or whole paragraphs without due acknowledgment in the form of reference to the original work;

(iii) quoting directly from a source and failing to insert quotation marks around the quoted passages. In such cases, it is not adequate to merely acknowledge the source.

(note: Be careful in your note-taking because plagiarism may arise inadvertently. If your notes include quotations or paraphrasing, make sure that fact is recorded so that you do not mistake the work of another for your own and so that you can source the material in your final draft. )

4 Related forms of cheating which will also be treated with the utmost seriousness include:

- (i) submitting work written by someone else on the student's behalf;
- (ii) submitting another student's work whether or not it has been previously submitted by that student;
- (iii) two students separately submitting the same piece of work upon which they have illicitly collaborated;
(note: Students can and do work together on projects and assignments. This is good practice, and many find it rewarding. The work of each student, however, which is submitted for assessment must be work of that student alone except for material which is acknowledged as being derived from another—even another student. Study together and discuss your assignment with others—but ensure that the work submitted is your own. Do your writing quite independently. When in doubt, you should consult your subject coordinator and get written permission to work together on projects and assignments. )
- (iv) a student submitting a piece of his or her own work for two different subjects;
- (v) a student assisting any candidate in an examination or other piece of assessed individual work, or accepting assistance in such an examination or other piece of assessed individual work, except in accordance with approved study and assessment schemes;
- (vi) a student having in his or her possession during an examination any material other than that which the examiner has specified as permissible;
- (vii) a student causing any disturbance or engaging in conduct likely to disturb any other candidate in an examination (the Senior Examination Officer may require a candidate causing any disturbance to leave the examination room).

Prejudicial conduct

If a student admits, or is found to have committed, conduct in breach of any of these clauses which prejudices the interests of other candidates in an examination or the integrity of an assessment scheme itself, the Head of Department shall refer the matter to the Board of Conduct, which may impose any penalty authorised under Chapter XVII or in Chapter XII of the Statutes.

Professional postgraduate courses

Most students enrolling in professional courses (eg M.B.A., LL.M., Graduate Certificate courses) will be required to pay tuition fees calculated on a per subject basis. Each year the Council of the University approves the courses for which tuition fees may be charged and the level of the fees. A brochure defining these fees is available from the Office of Continuing Education, level 2, Capita Tower (telephone 303 4777).

Payment of tuition fees will exempt such students from paying the Higher Education Contribution with respect to the course and, in some cases, may be tax deductible.

Repeating students

Students who are repeating subjects, particularly a laboratory subject, which they have failed may be eligible to be granted exemption from lectures (if they are compulsory), tutorials or seminars, practical work and examinations (practical or written). Preliminary enquiries should be addressed to the Department concerned or the relevant Faculty Registrar.

Review of academic progress (Clause 4C)

Under the provisions of Clause 4C of Chapter XXV of the Statutes, students whose academic progress is considered to be unsatisfactory may be precluded from taking further studies in the course for which they are enrolled; or further enrolment in that course may not be permitted for one academic year; or they may be permitted to re-enrol, but with a restricted program of study.

Scholarships and Prizes

Many of the scholarships and prizes available at The University of Adelaide are described in The University Calendar, Volume 1. Further information regarding postgraduate scholarships and major awards is obtainable from the Registrar, Scholarships, Timothy Gent, or the Scholarships Officer, Margaret Heslop, in the Research and Graduate Studies Branch, Level 7, Wills Building (telephone (08) 303 5725/ 303 5697). Interested students should also consult the scholarships noticeboard on Level 7, Wills Building, at regular intervals and the University's fortnightly newsletter The Adelaidean which includes the latest news about scholarships and the Research and Graduate Studies update which is distributed regularly to Departments.

Sexual Harassment

Introduction

The University is committed to providing an equal opportunity environment within the University which is free from sexual harassment for all members of the University community. This chapter provides a definition of sexual harassment, as well as information on procedures for making a complaint of sexual harassment. The names of Contact Officers who can provide assistance with any matter related to sexual harassment and Members of the Sexual Harassment Committee can be obtained from the Equal Opportunity Office (Level 6, Wills Building, telephone 303 5962) or from the Students' Association.

1 Defining Sexual Harassment

Sexual harassment is impossible to define exhaustively, but it includes any verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature which is unsolicited and unwelcome and which:

- 1 implicitly or explicitly becomes a term or condition of a person's academic evaluation or employment; or
- 2 implicitly or explicitly becomes a term or condition for decisions which bear on a person's grades in academic evaluation or employment conditions such as appointment, promotion, salary or any other work conditions; or
- 3 has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual's academic or work performance; or

- 4 creates an intimidating, hostile or offensive learning, academic or working environment. Even forms of sexual harassment which are commonly thought mild or trivial can be personally offensive, particularly in staff/student or employer/employee relationships where there is formal inequality of status.

2 Seeking Advice

A person may wish to seek advice about sexual harassment without necessarily wishing to pursue a complaint. Some wish to make a statement of their concern about a situation, but not a complaint.

3 Making a Complaint

Anyone considering complaining about sexual harassment is urged to discuss the matter with a Contact Officer.

Generalised Complaints

Generalised complaints are complaints where the behaviour complained of is not directed towards a particular individual, but is nevertheless offensive, eg the display of sexist posters, or telling dirty jokes in lectures. In such cases, the person complained against would not necessarily be informed of who had complained.

Informal Intervention

An informal complaint makes the person complained of aware of the problem, but does not have a formal outcome. Informal intervention can be discussed with a contact officer.

Formal Complaints

A complainant may decide to make a formal complaint without attempting other measures first, or could decide to make a formal complaint if the informal intervention has failed to resolve the issue. In a formal complaint, the complainant makes a written statement and there is an investigation and determination made on what action, if any, is appropriate.

4 The Rights of Complainants

- 1 Complainants will be encouraged to take action themselves to resolve the complaint, with the support of a contact person.
- 2 Contact people may advise anyone on matters related to sexual harassment. However, action can only be taken on complaints by persons claiming to have been harassed or by persons authorised by them in writing.
- 3 Complainants will be informed of alternative courses of action open to them outside the University. If the complainant decides to pursue an alternative course of action the contact officer and the Committee must not proceed with the complaint until the other action is concluded. The complainant shall notify the contact officer of any other course of action taken.
- 4 Any attempt to penalise a complainant for complaining is prohibited, and shall be the subject of University disciplinary procedures.

Status for previous studies (Credit transfer)

Students seeking credit for work completed at either this University or another tertiary institution should obtain an 'Application for Status' form from the Faculty Registrar of the Faculty in which they are enrolled. The completed form should be lodged with the relevant Faculty Registrar.

An application for status on the grounds of work completed at another tertiary institution will be considered only if accompanied by a certified copy of the applicant's complete academic record (original or certified copy) and copies of the syllabuses of the relevant subjects and details of the structure of the course previously studied.

Statutory fees, Tuition fees and other charges

Payment of the prescribed Statutory Fees (the Union Fees) is compulsory for every student. Details of these fees are available in the Enrolment Details Brochure forwarded to all new students with their SATAC offer and continuing students with their results. These fees are additional to the HECS liability and are collected as part of the enrolment process.

Students who withdraw from a course during the year may be entitled to a partial or full refund of Statutory Fees already paid depending on the date of withdrawal. Applications for refunds of fees should be made to the Revenue Office, 230 North Terrace.

Tuition fees

The University offers a range of professional postgraduate courses designed to provide professional continuing education. These courses (eg M.B.A., LL.M. and most Graduate Diplomas and Graduate Certificates) are subject to tuition fees. Payment of tuition fees for such courses exempts students from any Higher Education Contribution Scheme (HECS) liability.

Tuition fees for professional postgraduate courses are collected by the University's Office of Continuing Education. Students enrolled in professional postgraduate courses will receive an invoice from the Office of Continuing Education during the first weeks of each semester. Amendments to enrolments lodged prior to the relevant withdraw-not-fail date for each semester will result in an automatic refund to students. Tuition fee refunds will not generally be given for amendments to enrolment lodged after the relevant semester withdraw-not-fail date.

Students should note that outstanding tuition fee obligations can result in cancellation of enrolment. Students may also be placed in 'financial bad standing' with the University which will preclude further enrolments, the processing of any results, printing of transcripts and graduation until the outstanding debt is settled.

The Office of Continuing Education operates a student loan scheme for students in need of financial assistance with their tuition fees. Enquiries should be directed to the Office of Continuing Education, level 2 Capita Tower, Adelaide (telephone (08) 303 4777

University charges

A charge of $50 may be made by the University in cases of late enrolment.

A charge of $20 may be made in cases of late application for graduation.

Students undertaking 2nd, 3rd and 4th years of the Bachelor of Dental Surgery are required to pay the Cashier of The Adelaide Dental Hospital $250 for the hire of hospital instruments and equipment.

Students who arrange to take their examinations externally are responsible for the payment of charges for supervision and should consult the Examinations Officer, Julie Gareffa, Level 5 Wills Building, telephone (08) 303 5209.

Compulsory excursions and camps

In some subjects, attendance at excursions or at camps (usually during vacations) forms a compulsory part of the associated practical work. The University endeavours to contribute towards travel costs; however students are required to meet whatever living costs (accommodation, meals, etc) may be involved themselves. List of compulsory excursions or camps involving such costs are available from the relevant Faculty.

Student Identity Cards

The Student Identity Card enables students to use the facilities of the Students Union and to borrow books from the library. Full-time students may use their Identity cards as an STA Concession Card.

If you are a continuing student and already have an Identity card from the previous year, present the receipt of your Union fees to either the Library desk at the enrolment centre or, after the enrolment period, the membership desk of the Barr Smith Library and your card will be revalidated for the current year. A new card will be produced for new students who will also need to present their receipts. If your Identity card is lost or destroyed, contact the membership desk of the Barr Smith Library (please note that you will need to present proof of payment of fees in order to obtain a replacement card).

Subject quotas

Some subjects have quota restrictions. While no compulsory subject for a course will be restricted, students should be careful when selecting subjects.

Students should check with their Faculty Registrar to determine which subjects are liable to quota restrictions and the method by which students will be selected into them.

Supplementary examinations

Students who are prevented by illness or by circumstances beyond their control from attending an examination, or students who believe that illness or special circumstances have significantly affected their preparation or performance, may apply for a supplementary examination on medical or compassionate grounds. Supplementary examinations may also be granted on academic grounds.

Please note that the University's policy now requires students requesting supplementary examinations to lodge their application with the Faculty Registrar, not the department.

Right to Academic Supplementary examination in certain circumstances

Students are to have the opportunity to undertake supplementary assessment if they fail a subject, provided that they have made a reasonable effort and are considered to have a reasonable chance of passing at the second attempt.

Each department is responsible for defining its policy on academic supplementary examinations so that all students in each subject are treated equally. In many cases, a 'reasonable effort' for the purposes of granting academic supplementary examinations is defined as results in the range of 40–49 with supplementary examinations being awarded automatically to students who achieve marks of 45–49 and, at the discretion of the examiner or examiners' committee, to students who achieve marks of 40–44.

Applications for supplementary examinations on medical or compassionate grounds

Medical information from a student's private doctor is assessed by the University Health Service. Applications for supplementary examinations of medical or compassionate grounds are to be lodged with the Faculty Registrar within seven days of the corresponding primary examinations.

Granting of medical certificates

In order to minimise confusion and to ensure that students are not disadvantaged, the Student Health Service wishes to remind all students of the following important points in relation to applications for supplementary examinations on medical grounds.

- 1 As a general rule, you should attempt the examinations.
- 2 If you submit an application on medical grounds, it will be to your advantage if you are able to see a doctor on the day of the illness so that an accurate assessment of your condition can be made.
- 3 Retrospective certificates are not accepted.
- 4 While the Health Service values the advice from local medical practitioners in making an assessment of each application, the final medical certificate sent to the University Faculties is provided by the Health Service doctors. The category of unfit to sit an examination is reserved for major illness that prevents attendance at the examination. It may be that advice to you from your local doctor that you are unfit is not supported by clinical symptoms and signs that are documented.
- 5 As a general rule, the Health Service does not consider minor ailments such as colds and mild respiratory infections as grounds for being certified unfit to sit an exam.
- 6 The advice provided to the University Faculties/Academic staff by the Health Service (on your behalf) is advice — we do not make the decision on whether you are granted a supplementary or not. That decision remains the responsibility of the Academic staff.

Supplementary examination period

The principal supplementary examination period is in January. However, supplementary examinations for some semester I subjects are held in the last two weeks of the mid-year vacation in July, and for some semester II and full-year subjects in December. Where the approved assessment procedures for a subject include supplementary examinations in July or December, Departments will notify students of offers, dates, times and venues by posting notices on the Departmental notice-board and/or by contacting students directly. Students will need to apply directly to the relevant Faculty concerned with appropriate supporting evidence if they seek supplementary examinations in July or December on medical or compassionate grounds. Students granted supplementary examinations in January will be notified at the same time as they are notified by mail in December of their official final results in each subject in which they are enrolled.

January supplementary examinations are conducted in Adelaide. Students planning to go away on holidays during the long vacation are advised to take this into account. Student Travel Australia (Union House) provides insurance coverage for students interrupting travel in order to return to Adelaide to sit supplementary examinations.

Examinations will not be arranged elsewhere or at special times for students who may be travelling, or on holiday, or in temporary employment, away from Adelaide or who are absent from Adelaide for reasons not connected with their course of study. Students who become ill during the year or whose studies may have been adversely affected by traumatic events are strongly advised to consult the University Health Service and/or the Counselling Service at the earliest possible opportunity.

Recording of Results

The granting of medical and compassionate supplementary examinations and of academic supplementary examinations in which a 'reasonable effort' is discretionary (eg in the 40–44 range of marks in the example above) shall be made by a committee of department or Faculty examiners, not by individual examiners, to foster equity and consistency within each department.

Academic grounds

Where students have undertaken supplementary examinations on academic grounds only the final result will be recorded on the academic transcript. For students who pass subjects after academic supplementary examinations, the maximum result will be recorded on the academic transcript shall be the minimum result which will allow the student to pass to the next level in a subject: viz 50 Pass for those subjects with the grading scheme of D, C, P CP and F or 55 Pass Division 1 for those subjects with the grading scheme of D, C, P1, P2 and F.

For subjects with the grading scheme of D, C, P1, P2 and F, a result of 50 Pass Division 2 may also be recorded on the transcript. That is, in cases where a student can achieve the maximum Pass result in the subject but cannot proceed to the next level in the discipline if a Pass Division 1 is required. For example, a final mark of 53 after a supplementary examination in Biology I will be recorded on the transcript as 50 P2. This would allow the subject to be counted towards the student's degree but would not permit the student to enrol in Botany II or any other subject for which Biology I is a prerequisite.

Medical, Compassionate and Mixed grounds

The result of a supplementary examination granted on medical, compassionate or mixed grounds will be classified and the final result entered as the single final result in the subject.

Tape Recording Lectures

The University's policy is as follows:

'In general, permission for students to use a tape-recorder at University lectures will not be granted. In special cases, however, such permission may be given, but only:

- (a) if both the lecturer concerned, and the relevant Head of Department, approve; and
- (b) if the student gives a written undertaking that the recording;
  - (i) will be for his or her own exclusive use, and will not be played to any other person; and
  - (ii) will be destroyed as soon as possible after it has served its purpose. '

Students who feel that in their case there are good reasons why they should be permitted to use a tape-recorder at lectures are advised to consult, in the first instance, the appropriate Head of Department. If medical considerations are involved they would also find it helpful to consult the University Health Service, and in other cases, the University's Student Counselling Service.

Transferring courses (undergraduate)

Please note:

- (a) that in each degree and diploma course there is a quota on the number of new admissions in any year;
- (b) that any students wishing to enrol in a course in which he/she has not previously been enrolled must apply towards the end of the year by the prescribed date.
Application forms are available from the South Australian Tertiary Admissions Centre, 230 North Terrace, Adelaide.

Students wishing to study Law should obtain the leaflet 'Law Graduates and Students who have Completed Some University Studies' from the Admissions Officer or the Faculty Registrar (Law).
