The University of Adelaide

AH/PS:001

12 March, 1973.

Dear Students,

It gives us great pleasure to extend to you all a warm welcome as new members of the University of Adelaide.

You will be spending three, four, five or six years among us, depending on the course which you are undertaking, and we hope that these years will be happy and fruitful.

The first few days at a University are particularly bewildering - that is why we had Orientation Week. There are so many activities at the University - that is why this is such a stimulating community - and many of these will be new to you. We hope that you will ask as many questions as you can so that you will be informed on as many of these as possible. You can then decide, from some sort of informed position, on what part you wish to play.

In the years which follow we think you will find that the more you contribute to the life of the University the more you will gain.

A warm welcome and every good wish for the future.

Yours sincerely,

The Editors.
