FOOTBALL.

MELBOURNE UNIVERSITY V. ADELAIDE UNIVERSITY.

Representatives of the Melbourne University Football Club tried conclusions with the Adelaide University team in the presence of a small attendance of spectators at the Adelaide Oval on Wednesday afternoon. The visitors soon demonstrated their superiority, and won by kicking 13 goals 13 behinds against 6 goals 5 behinds. Throughout the game was interesting, and occasionally exciting tussles were witnessed. A feature of the work of the Melbourne men was their system and the accuracy and quickness with which they selected comfades in exchanging. They also exhibited much cleverness in knocking the ball out of the ruck, and passed with rapidity and precision. In shepherding they showed more foresight than their opponents, and frequently beat them in the air. Capital marking, however, was provided on both sides. The cardinal faults of the local players were their neglect to stand their men and lack of co-operation. Many of their individual efforts were splendid, but as a rule they were unsupported, and therefore proved ineffective. The teams were published on Wednesday. The visitors attacked vigorously at the bounce, and during the first seven or eight minutes kept Adelaide's home in constant danger. Six times they tried for goal, but only one shot yielded the maximum. Such poor shooting—it was the worst department of the team—gave the local men encouragement, and a determined sortie enabled them to carry the sphera well forward. An attempt was made to find the centre without success, and then the leather travelled smartly to the other end, where four majors and a single were added to Melbourne's total. At the bounce Adelaide tried hard to score, but only a behind resulted. Although the visitors began with great dash in the second term, and registered a behind and a goal in a few minutes, Adelaide quickly indicated that they intended to have some say in the argument. Combining well, they forwarded to Jeffers, and he raised the flags. Give-and-take play ensued, and culminated in Dolling twice sending the ball through. The visitors responded to the same tune, and the scores at half-time showed Melbourne leading by 9 goals 9 behinds compared with 3 goals 4 behinds. The visitors had the better of the contest in the third term. Shortly after the ball was set in motion Dolling kicked true. C. A. Fogarty replied with a similar quantity a moment later, and then for a while Adelaide maintained an incessant attack upon their rivals' home. The visitors eventually secured possession, and prettily dispatched to the other end. Working well together, and passing, marking, and handballing in a charming manner, they compelled Adelaide's backs to remain continually on the alert. Notwithstanding a stubborn defence, however, they managed to penetrate the cordon, and after four unsuccessful tries—two at least of which ought to have produced sixers—they sent the flags up. Honours were evenly divided in the final period, so far as the play and the major scores were concerned, but the visitors also added a couple of behinds. Best players:—Melbourne University—H. Gardner (captain), Cameron, Upton, A. C. Fogarty, Fleming, and E. Cordner; Adelaide University—MacLennan, A. Jeffers, Stoddart (captain), Donnelly, Jeffers, Doudy, and Nancarrow. Goalkeepers:—Melbourne—Upton (4), H. Cordner, McDougal, and A. C. Fogarty (each 2); J. P. Fogarty, Richards, and Dossetor (each 1); Adelaide—Dolling and Okely (each 2), Jeffers and Jones (each 1).

A DINNER.

In the evening the visitors, who included the members of the Melbourne University lacrosse team, were entertained at dinner at the Selborne Hotel by the Adelaide University Lacrosse and Football Clubs. Mr. R. W. Bennett (President of the University Sports Association of the University) presided over a large attendance. The Chairman proposed "The Melbourne University Lacrosse and Football Clubs," coupled with the names of Dr. W. E. Summons and Mr. H. Cordner, the respective captains. They were delighted to welcome the visitors to Adelaide. Representatives of the Adelaide University had been many times to Melbourne, where they had met with the greatest hospitality. It was therefore a keen pleasure to them to be able to reciprocate in some measure the kindly treatment which they had received. (Applause.) He heartily congratulated the winners of the game on their splendid victory, which they thoroughly deserved. (Hear, hear.) In lacrosse, at any rate, they hoped to prove more successful. While sympathizing with the losers, he warmly complimented them upon the dogged and determined manner in which they had striven to avert defeat. Mr. Cordner, on behalf of the football team, returned thanks. Although they had been beaten, the Adelaide team merited praise for the capital uphill exhibition they had given. (Cheers.) Dr. Summons also replied, and thought the lacrosse team would be able to give the Adelaide combination a good battle. (Applause.) Mr. J. Lang (ex-secretary of the Melbourne University Sports Association) gave "The Adelaide University Lacrosse and Football Clubs." He sincerely regretted that the football team was not affiliated with the South Australian Association, and hoped that it would soon attain its desire in that direction. (Cheers.) Messrs. C. A. Edmunds and H. W. D. Stoddart (captains of the teams) responded. Mr. C. L. Jessop (secretary of the Adelaide University Sports Association) submitted "Kindred sports," which was acknowledged by Mr. C. H. Clowes (manager of the Melbourne University Football Club). The health of the Chairman was honoured at the instance of Mr. D. M. Steele (vice-captain of the Adelaide University Lacrosse Club).

CENTRE FORMED FOR KAPUNDA.

The Council of the Adelaide University having considered the advisableness of forming an examination centre in Kapunda, the Registrar (Mr. C. R. Hodge) addressed a meeting at the Institute on Friday evening. The president of the Institute (Mr. B. R. Banyer) presided over a good and influential attendance. Mr. Hodge said that the Council of the University was always willing to extend the benefits of the institution as far as possible, but hitherto no local centres had been formed unless applications were made for them. The centre proposed for Kapunda would embrace two schemes of examination, viz., the public examination in general education (primary, junior, senior, and higher), at which all schools could present candidates; and in both theory and practice of music. The value of the system was that candidates in the country could obtain at their own doors benefits at the same cost as could candidates in Adelaide, and the result was that after passing exams they might go on further and at the University take subjects for the B.A. degree. He referred to the establishment of the chair of music in the Adelaide University, and the great benefits that had been derived therefrom, and also to the practice of colleges in England sending examiners to Australia to hold exams. in music, and stated that the whole or nearly all the fees collected in these cases went out of Australia to benefit students in England, whereas the University of Adelaide was a benevolent institution, and all the fees collected were spent for the good of local students. Recently the Universities of Melbourne and Adelaide had combined in the matter of holding examinations in music, giving interchange of professors, and probably the practice would be extended all over Australasia in the near future. For the present two examiners would attend in connection with the tests in the two higher grades of music and one in the others. The examiners would be men who had made a study of their branch—singers for singing, violinists for the violin, pianists for the piano, and so on. It would be an examination in general music conducted carefully and under the best conditions, and so arranged that the candidate would not become a mere examination machine. The formation of a permanent centre in Kapunda would be a great benefit fit to the teachers and the candidates, and the Council of the University looked forward with the very greatest confidence to the support of the teachers and public. Probably later on the University lectures may be extended to the country centres. The method adopted by the Council was to have a committee selected at a public meeting called for the purpose, a committee in whom the towns people had every confidence, and of which, therefore, the Council would approve. This committee, or the present meeting, as thought desirable, appointed its own chairman and secretary; the latter, who should be easily accessible, would give all the information and have charge of all papers, forms, &c., in connection with the exams. The Rev. A. G. Fry said they had listened with great pleasure to Mr. Hodge's explanations of the purpose of the University Council. Centres had been formed in other towns, and even at Gawler, which was not so far removed from the city, and he thought the young people of Kapunda should have similar advantages. The holding of the examinations locally would mean a considerable saving to candidates, and cost was often an obstacle to those who would otherwise sit. He thought it was very desirable that there should be a centre in Kapunda, and he proposed "that this meeting consider it desirable that a University centre should be established in Kapunda." Mr. Joseph James seconded. It would be a most advantageous step for Kapunda. Dr. E. McM. Glynn supported. The formation of a centre would be an advance in the right direction. A somewhat similar system was in vogue in Ireland, and the examinations had enabled young people to advance who would not have had the opportunity otherwise. Some of the young men who passed these local examinations had risen to high positions as a consequence.

Mr. G. S. Berriman also supported. The Chairman also endorsed. The following committee was appointed:—Messrs. A. G. Fry and Joseph James and Miss White, His Worship the Mayor (Mr. J. H. Hitchens), the Rev. A. G. Fry, S. Rosser, H. Coombs, G. Williams, and G. Griffiths, Dr. E. McM. Glynn, and Messrs. B. R. Banyer (president of the Institute), R. Ross (president of the School of Mines), Joseph James, A. Mayer, W. J. M. Oats, and G. S. Berriman, with power to add to their number. The Rev. A. G. Fry was appointed but the election of a chairman was secretary. But the election of a chairman was left with the committee.

UNIVERSITY LACROSSE.

ADELAIDE, 17 GOALS; MELBOURNE, 1 GOAL.

The second annual lacrosse match between the Melbourne and Adelaide Universities was played on the Adelaide Oval on Thursday afternoon in beautiful weather, although the heavy rain earlier in the day had completely soddened the ground. Among the spectators was His Excellency the Governor, who was heartily cheered by the teams and the student on-lookers. The game was of the same one-sided character that marked the football contest between the two universities on the previous day, except that the fortunes of the play were reversed. The visitors, who did not have their strongest 12 in the field, were outclassed at all points of the game, and except for a brief period during the first quarter they never seriously pushed their opponents. The first quarter ended with the board showing three goals to nil in favour of Adelaide. At half-time the score was 7 to 1, and in the last half the local team added 10 more goals, making the final result 17 to 1. Melbourne University lacrosse is marked by the utmost gentility and impotency, and the team which played yesterday would not be admitted to senior ranks here. The Adelaide University, on the other hand, is rapidly building up a combination which ought soon to restore its old-time prestige in the lacrosse arena. Their team work yesterday was excellent, and very effective catching and passing were frequently witnessed. No trace of selfishness could be detected, and it was gratifying to think that the club at the bottom of the premiership list could show such satisfactory lacrosse. The winners' goals were shot by Greenway (6), Verco (3), Hanton (3), Steele (2), Russell (2), and Phummer (1). The best of their homes was Greenway, who has done the bulk of the scoring for his club this year; but the most prominent player on the side was Steele at centre, who roved untiringly. After the first quarter Dr. Summons, who played in interstate lacrosse last year, was put on to mark Steele, but the latter went on enjoying his day out. Russell played a fine attack game, and is going to make a tip-top man. In the air there are few better men playing the game here, his catching being very sure. Of the back contingent Goode, Boucaut, and Edmunds did the best work, but G. C. Campbell in goal was not seriously troubled. The one Melbourne goal was thrown by J. O. Campbell. It is hard to name any man on the losing side who stood out above the others. Ley in goal shaped splendidly in the first quarter, but gradually fell to pieces. Generally the team was not nearly aggressive enough to oppose Adelaide senior lacrosseurs. An uncertainty in passing and inability to get on to the ball first were always noticeable. There was no spring in the work of the visitors. A defeat of 17 goals to 1 represents a disparity which ought not to exist between two bodies of students having equal opportunities for practice. Mr. J. Larner refereed the game in an efficient manner. In the evening the visitors were entertained at a dance in Elder Hall.
