Production of T. W. Robertson's Famous Comedy,
in Three Acts,

“CASTE,”

BY THE

Garrick Dramatic Club.

IN AID OF THE NORTH ADELAIDE INSTITUTE STAGE AND PROSCENIUM,
AND THE GARRICK CLUB CHARITY FUND.

God Save the Queen.

Garrick Dramatic Club.

INFORMED for the purpose of augmenting the funds of charitable institutions in need of assistance, the Garricks have certainly carried out their intentions. The entire proceeds of the Garrick's entertainments are handed over to the institution for which they are playing, with the exception of a small percentage, which is retained as a contribution towards the Club Fund. This fund is another pleasing instance of the good intentions that animate the Garricks. It is formed for the purpose of establishing a bed at the Adelaide Children's Hospital, and it is to be hoped that the patronage accorded the Garrick's performances will enable them to quickly put the plan into execution. The members are working hard to make an extensive repertoire, and in selecting plays the Committee exercise care in choosing those most acceptable to the public.

Conway Edwardes' Comedy-Drama, “Long Odds,” will be the next production of the Garricks.
