

were passing an Act to enable her to gratify that ambition. (Applause.) Some day they would see a "sweet girl graduate" of the Adelaide University in a lawyer's or a barrister's gown. Whatever course Miss Jones might take they wished her great success. (Cheers.)

—Winners of Andrew Scott Memorial Prize for Latin.—

Stewart, Colin Gore, and Williams, Francis Edgar (equal).

—Winner of Barr Smith Prize for Greek.—

Bean, Edgar Layton.

—Winner of Roby Fletcher Prize for Psychology and Logic.—

Giles, Harold.

The Chancellor said that although Mr. Giles had taken the ordinary degree of Bachelor of Arts, his success was not ordinary in the literal sense. He had made himself acquainted with some of the particulars of his career, and in the whole history of the University he did not know of a case in which greater moral force or greater courage, persistency, or zeal for learning than had been shown in this case. (Cheers.) He was sure Mr. Giles was not ashamed of the difficulties which he had encountered and so successfully overcome. He had been left an orphan almost in infancy, and for years his mother had had a struggle with poverty. Mr. Giles himself had worked hard. He had entered the Telegraph Department, but then, desiring to travel, he offered as a cabin boy, and went to South Africa. Above all he had had a laudable ambition and a determination to become a cultured and useful man. Later he had become a student at the Adelaide University. He won the Tinline Scholarship in 1910, and had now graduated and won the Roby Fletcher Prize for psychology and logic. He had every reason to feel proud, and they would join with him in that feeling. He hoped his future career would be honourable to himself, the joy of his friends, and the pride of the Adelaide University. (Cheers.)

John Howard Clark Scholar in English Language and Literature.—Jones, Louisa Lorrie.

David Murray Scholar in the Honours Degree in Classics.—Barton, Felix Kingston.

David Murray Scholar in Philosophy.—Allen, Eleanor Alice.

The Chancellor said Miss Allen was a distinguished member of a distinguished family. One of her brothers (a Bachelor of Arts) was in the mission field in India, and another held a high position in a technical college in Perth.

Tinline Scholar in History.—Jackson, Sarah Elizabeth.

—Science Degrees.—

Honours Degrees of Bachelor of Science.

—Ad Eundem Gradum—Professor Kerr Grant, M.Sc. (Melbourne).

The Chancellor stated it was a bright chapter in the history of the University to be associated with the name of Professor Kerr Grant, in the brilliant manner in which he had won the degrees of Bachelor and Master of Science. The members of the University were proud that the name was to add additional lustre to the roll of its graduates.

For the Honours Degree of Bachelor of Science.—Physiology—Haste, Reginald Arthur (in absentia); Wibberley, Brian William (in absentia).

The Chancellor remarked that Mr. Haste had entered the University with a scholarship won at Prince Alfred College, and that Mr. Wibberley had entered on the scholarship in connection with St. Alban's Masonic Lodge.

Ordinary Degree of Bachelor of Science.—

Begg, Reginald Haussen; Brown, Arthur Cubitt; Cooper, Wilfred Windham; Laybourne-Smith, Louis; Kahan, Raoul Robelaz (in absentia).

The Chancellor, in congratulating Mr. Begg, said he held the Commercial Travelers' Scholarship. Mr. Brown had entered the University on a Hartley scholarship. The name of Hartley was always received with honour in that institution. Mr. Brown had passed in the first division six times during his undergraduate course, and Mr. Cooper had passed 10 times in the first division in the same course. He congratulated Mr. Laybourne-Smith with the greater pleasure, because he was associated with the School of Mines. Some people had the erroneous idea that the University had not a friendly feeling for the School of Mines, but he would be sorry to think that was the real condition of affairs. Mr. Laybourne-Smith was a living personal link between the two institutions. (Applause.)

—For the Diploma in Applied Science.—

Angwin, Hugh Thomas Moffatt, B.Sc. (Elec. Eng. A.); Begg, Reginald Haussen (Elec. Eng. A.); McNamara, Louis Warnecke, B.Sc. (Elec. Eng. B.); White, William John (Mech. Eng.); Madigan, Cecil Thomas, B.Sc. (mining), in absentia.

The Chancellor referred in eulogistic terms to Mr. Madigan, who had been selected as Rhodes Scholar last year. He had been recognised at Oxford by the Rhodes Trustees as a first-class man, and one who might be expected to win distinction for his country wherever he went. Accordingly they had granted him two years' leave of absence, and now he was on his way with the Mawson expedition to Antarctica.

—For the Degree of Bachelor of Music.—

Goode, Muriel Gertrude; Wibberley, Brian, in absentia.

The Chancellor regretted the absence of the Rev. Brian Wibberley, who had attained an exceptional achievement. Although he had been minister of the Kent Town Methodist Church and editor of the denominational paper, he had in addition to performing those arduous duties accomplished the great distinction of taking the degree of Bachelor of Music. There was another noteworthy circumstance, and that was that father and son had received a degree at the same meeting of the University. That was not the first occasion on which that interesting fact had occurred in connection with the University, however.

—For the Diploma in Commerce.—

Needham, George Francis Jack; Wauchope, James George Neilson; Wheeler, Horace Roseby.

—Winner of the Joseph Escher Medal.—

Wauchope, James George Neilson.

Advertiser, Dec. 15/11

Mr. Bryceson Treharne, of the Elder Conservatorium, leaves for London by the mail steamer to-day. He has resigned his position at the Conservatorium. No appointment is to be made to fill it, and the piano-forte department next year will be under the sole charge of Mr. Reimann.

Register, Dec. 15/11

UNIVERSITY BILL.

In committee. Consideration of message from the House of Assembly, notifying that it had disagreed to the Council's amendment.

In committee. The CHIEF SECRETARY moved that the amendment be not insisted upon. The agreement between the University and the School of Mines contained all the provisions for making an alteration, and as 12 months' notice had to be given, no surprise could be sprung upon either party. The insertion of the agreement into the Bill seemed to introduce a sort of suspicion in regard to one or other of the parties. It was not necessary that the agreement should be in the Bill, and he understood that some members who had voted for it were now disposed not to insist upon it.

The Hon. J. G. BICE said his only desire in moving the amendment had been to secure the continuance of an arrangement to which most members who had spoken had referred in the highest possible terms. He would not ask members to insist upon the amendment, as it might necessitate a conference, and perhaps lead to the wrecking of the Bill. The commission would take into consideration the whole matter of technical education, and with that assurance he could trust entirely to the commission to do full justice to each of the educational institutions.

Amendment not insisted upon; resolution reported; report adopted.

Advertiser, Dec. 15/11

ADELAIDE UNIVERSITY BILL.

The MINISTER of EDUCATION, on behalf of the committee appointed to draw up a reason for disagreeing to the amendment of the Council in the Adelaide University Bill, brought up the reason:—"Because it is not desirable that the agreement should be incorporated in the Bill. The reason was agreed to and ordered to be transmitted by message to the Legislative Council."

AN ADELAIDE VIOLINIST

MISS DAISY KENNEDY.

LONDON, December 14.

Miss Daisy Kennedy, a South Australian violinist, won a great success yesterday at the concert given by Sevcik's pupils in the Queen's Hall, London.

The "Daily Telegraph," in its criticism to-day, proclaims her to be an artist of the highest rank and style, and far above the standard of those who are usually described as first-class violinists. Other London papers are equally eulogistic.

Miss Daisy Kennedy is a daughter of Mr. J. A. Kennedy, headmaster of the East Adelaide public school, and a niece of Mrs. Thomas King. Her brother, Mr. A. L. Kennedy, an engineering student at Adelaide University, who was stroke of the University eight and a champion inter-University rifle shot, recently left for the Antarctic regions with Dr. Mawson's expedition. Miss Kennedy comes of an artistic family, and she early showed such great proficiency as a violinist that she was sent by her father to Europe. She has been studying there for some time, and has won the highest possible praise from her teachers and from experts who have heard her play. When Kubelik heard her in Adelaide about three years ago he strongly urged her parents to give her an opportunity of developing her gifts under the best possible teachers. She, therefore, went to Vienna, where she has studied under Herr Sevcik, who is the teacher of the Meisterschuler, at the Vienna Conservatorium, and who was Kubelik's own teacher.

Miss Daisy Kennedy.

Advertiser, Dec. 15/11

NEW DOCTORS.

At a meeting of the South Australian Medical Board on Thursday afternoon at the Adelaide Hospital the following were present:—Drs. T. K. Hamilton (president), A. A. Hamilton, London, Napier, and Rogers, and the secretary (Mr. Medlyn). The following were registered as legally qualified medical practitioners in South Australia:—John LeMessurier Kneebone, M.B., B.S., Adel., 1911; Ivan Coronel Hains, M.B., B.S., Adel., 1911; Adolph Oswald Boer, M.B., B.S., Adel., 1911; Ernest Albert Harold Russell, M.B., B.S., Adel., 1911; Leonard Graeme Muirhead, M.B., B.S., Adel., 1911; William Malcolm Sinclair, M.B., B.S., Adel., 1911; Cyril Frederick Pitcher, M.B., B.S., Adel., 1911; Archibald Cockburn Wilton, M.B., B.S., Adel., 1911; Gilbert Aberdein Harvey, M.B., B.S., Adel., 1911; Harold William Downing Stoddart, M.B., B.S., Adel., 1911; Charles Edward Dolling, M.B., B.S., Adel., 1911; Charles Francis Drew, M.B., B.S., Adel., 1911; Thomas Hugh Donnelly, M.B., B.S., Adel., 1911; May Josephine Moffatt, M.B., B.S., Adel., 1911; Edward Brooke Thomas, M.B., B.S., Adel., 1911; and Louis Saengar Holmes, L.R.C.P. & S., Edin., L.F.P. and S., Glas., 1887.