

Our illustration depicts the new Kintore Avenue Teachers' College, the foundation stone of which was laid by the Minister of Education (Hon. L. L. Hill) on Friday afternoon. The building, which will take a year to complete, will be replete with every modern convenience, and will cost £28,995