

March 14, 1938

To
The Editor,
The Quarterly Journal of Pharmacy and Pharmacology.

Dear Sir,

I am asked by the author, Dr C.I.Bliss, to submit the enclosed paper as from this Laboratory. I have been in touch with Bliss's statistical work for some years and have every reason to know that it is good, though I have not checked details in the paper. I enclose also, for your information, a note from Dr Tattersfield, Rothamsted Experimental Station, whom I have consulted about it. I may say that I do not think the methods now advocated are in practice more laborious than the old, and I find them to be more flexible when further complications have to be taken into account.

I may say that I am myself indifferent on the matter of personal credit mentioned by Tattersfield in his reference to p.11, but shall inform Bliss of Tattersfield's opinion when I have his letter back. I have no doubt that Cochran is right on the two points that he makes.

Yours sincerely,

// paper and letter