

March 24, 1941

My dear Whately Carington,

I am afraid I have already too many irons in the fire even to think of undertaking "paranormal" experimentation. I should find it most exciting and interesting I am sure, but could not possibly do it.

Yours sincerely,