

February 22, '42

Dear C.G.,

Thanks for your letter. I must say I find it a great relief to be treated with so much consideration, and equally to think that the matter has received some serious attention.

Could you find time this week or next to lunch with me at the Saville and meet Thornton and George? George has just arrived home for a fortnight, being convalescent from a crash he was involved in.

I am not proposing to do anything contrary to your opinion; but I think you might find it worth while to hear what they have to say.

Perhaps you will 'phone to let me know which day suits you - Wednesday and Friday this week are barred.

Yours sincerely,