

TELEPHONE 47726.

DEPARTMENT OF
ZOOLOGY AND COMPARATIVE ANATOMY, UNIVERSITY MUSEUM, OXFORD.

October 1st: 1946.

My dear Ron,

Thank you so much for your letter. What you tell me of the results of your analysis is a decided surprise: but as you say, the curiosity high apparent-frequency towards the end of emergence seems now to have an explanation. So it has been well worth while to wait for this extra year. I look forward immensely to your further studies and to talking it all over together. I do think you have done splendidly to obtain these estimates.

I am so sorry to hear that - you can only spend one night - with me. It will be grand to have you for that - , but - if you can possibly manage longer I should be so delighted.

Yours sincerely,
Henry