

29th July, 1954.

My dear Henry,

This is just a line to say how greatly I enjoyed the opportunity to see you and your colleagues at Oxford last week.

I think you mentioned that there was some material which you would like to discuss with me later, and I hope you will not hesitate to let me see it.

Sincerely yours,