

July 15th 1934.

My dear Ron,

I am writing to you on behalf of Philip, who is not yet back.

As it is not, of course, possible to reach Oxford in the morning in time for the start for the dominants work, I would rather suggest you come on the train:-

Cambridge depart-	Oxford arrive
2:05	6:12

We can then be at the station to meet you. Philip wants you to go out with him that first evening (Tuesday), and I want you to dine with me on the Wednesday evening - when I shall have the others too, and thus get the opportunity of all meeting at a little party.

Please remember the conditions and bring clothes suitable for the field.

work, in addition to clothes suitable for dining. For the field-work, gum-boots (you may be up to your knees in mud and water) and the oldest-possible things, in which you can lie down in liquid mud.

I do look forward to seeing you.

Yours always,
Henry
