Dear Ford,

You may be interested to see a draft on polymorphic species, which I have written, but which it seems rather premature to publish, although it will apparently be some years before much further information will be available.

I should be much interested if you care to annotate it in pencil. I have sent a copy to Haldane, but have not yet had time for a reply.

I really want to know a lot more about Helix and other snails. Let me have it back soon.

Yours sincerely,

Apoteosis paper enclosed.
