

9th. November 1950.

My dear Professor Fréchet,

It is really most kind of you to think of writing to me about my recent election as honorary member by the Statistical Institute. It was indeed immensely kind of all of you to think of giving me the honour and to support the proposition made.

Thank you also for bringing to my attention the article in the recent "Revue Generale des Sciences", which I shall try to see as soon as possible.

Yours sincerely,
