

Royal Statistical Society,

4. Portugal Street,

London, W.C.2.

HOLBORN 4283.

Feb 14 1958

Dear Sir Ronald

At the next meeting of the Executive Committee, as you know, we shall be considering the forthcoming changes in the composition of the Council for the next Session. The last day for the submission of recommendations of names for election to the Council is towards the end of this month so I must wait until then before I can send out a statement of appropriate particulars. But in the meanwhile, there is one very important point on which I should value your thoughts.

May I have your permission please to assume that you are willing to serve a second year as President? Together that you feel it largely depends on the wishes of your colleagues on the Council and if that is so I need hardly assure you that there is no question whatever on this point.

I can say without reservation that we should feel honoured if you would agree to preside over us for a second year of office. But it would be presumptuous of me to assume your willingness without inviting your consent.

Perhaps you would kindly let me know during the course of next week.

With kind regards

Yours sincerely

Ronald George