

4th January, 1954.

My dear Tony,

There is a Royal Society Dining Club dinner next week on January 14th following, as they sometimes do, the Council meeting of the Royal Statistical Society.

It occurred to me that you might be free to join me there as my guest. I do not think you have before come with me to one of these dinners.

Sincerely yours,