

February 26th, 1936

Dear Bradford Hill,

Thanks for troubling to go into my problem - or Balmukand's. I am afraid he cannot possibly construct fertility rates by age, through lack especially of accurate ages, but this need not preclude pretty good fertility comparisons at ages at which the number of children is nearly constant. I should judge the result might be not a little interesting.

Yours sincerely,