

25th January, 1955.

My dear Irwin,

I have recently given the enclosed paper, or a considerable part of it, to a meeting in Cambridge of the Philosophy of Science Club, and wonder if you would think it suitable for printing in Series B of the Royal Statistical Society.

I do not want to present it to a meeting for discussion, as I think these organized dog-fights do more harm than good.

Sincerely yours,

Enc. (Statistical Method and Scientific Inference)
