

The Galton Laboratory,
Rothamsted Experimental Station,
Harpenden, Herts.

December 14, 1939

Dear Jeffery,

Thanks for your letter. I have acted as you suggest.

I can carry on my work here myself without inconvenience, though that is scarcely true of my assistants.

I may have been both irritated and irritating; but, if so, I do not suppose that you put this on the same plane as making false statements in the public press.

Yours sincerely,