Dear Jeffreys,

Thanks for your letter about computationists, though I am afraid I can be of but little help. I think for my own part that the Tables Committee owes Neville a great deal, but I have had very little to do with the Committee in recent years, though I am hoping to give more time to it, or rather to the Royal Society Committee which seems to be taking over its work. I have not such a high opinion of Conrie.

Yours sincerely,
