

9th January, 1956.

My dear Oscar;

I have read your notes on the referee's report with interest. If Penrose and you do not reach an agreement to your satisfaction I shall, of course, be glad to receive the paper for Heredity. It may be, however, that you may find it recommended to some more mathematical journal, since the relation between contributors and readers of Heredity is such that that journal is always rather liable to be overloaded with mathematical material.

Sincerely yours,
