

3rd December, 1955.

My dear Kempthorne,

I have just received your manuscript with the referee's report from Penrose, who has some advice to give, but I do not know how far this will fit in with your own ideas.

Your referee is evidently a much more courteous man than Haldane.

Sincerely yours,

Encs. "Changes in Population Pressure - some of its Effects and the Rabbit System"