My dear Tedin,

I am enclosing a letter from a Mr Freeman, whom I do not know personally, enquiring about your 1931 paper in the Journal of Agricultural Science. Perhaps you will let him have one, if they are still available.

I hope all goes well with you in Sweden. I have, very reluctantly, moved my Department out here from London, not that I think our evacuation plans are of the least use, but because the College seemed to be doing its best to prevent any work being done in the Department at all.

Give my love to all mutual friends.

Yours sincerely,
