

The Student Guide and Timetables 1998

The University of Adelaide Calendar Volume IV

This booklet is intended to provide an introduction to The University of Adelaide. More detailed information relating to any of the material in this booklet may be obtained by contacting relevant staff or by consulting other volumes of the University Calendar.

The Guide is divided into four main sections: a profile of the University; a directory of services and supports for students; the rules and procedures; and the timetables. Information is in alphabetical order within these four main sections.

Course timetables are provided for each Faculty, with the exception of the Faculty of Dentistry. Students enrolled in Dentistry should obtain information on timetables directly from the Faculty Office. Please note that students enrolled for first year subjects taught by Departments in the Faculties of Dentistry, Engineering, Mathematical and Computer Sciences, Medicine or Science or for any subjects taught by the Department of Commerce will be allocated the times of their lectures, practicals and tutorials. Details of these allocations notice boards in the individual Departments before Orientation Week.

The University is a large and diverse community, covering nearly all the main areas of scholarship and professional study.

For undergraduates, a wide range of options is available within our degrees and diplomas, from a very broad education to career-oriented study, providing the diversity essential for the greater knowledge and employability of our graduates.

The University's professional degrees are nationally accredited and have undergone major curriculum change in the last few years.

Our graduate student population is increasing steadily with emphasis on research higher degrees and specialist coursework programs. The University has a high national profile in research and is proud to number Nobel Prize winners among its members.

While learning is a life-long process, the undergraduate years are a crucial component. Full and active participation in all aspects of University life will ensure that you derive the maximum enjoyment and benefit from these crucial years.

We would welcome your feedback and suggestions on any aspect of your experiences as a student at the University either through your faculty, school or department or through the Student Information Office.

Good wishes

Section I: The University of Adelaide

The University

The University of Adelaide is a large University with over 13,000 students enrolled in courses offered through eleven Faculties: Agricultural and Natural Resource Sciences, Architecture and Urban Design, Arts, Dentistry, Economics and Commerce, Engineering, Law, Mathematical and Computer Sciences, Medicine, Performing Arts and Science. This breadth of academic areas ensures considerable choice in courses and subjects.

For the purposes of allocations and management of resources, the Faculties are grouped in six Divisions, namely:

Agricultural and Natural Resource Sciences (comprising the Faculty of Agricultural and Natural Resource Sciences);

Engineering and Mathematics (comprising the Faculties of Engineering and Mathematical and Computer Sciences);

Health Sciences (comprising the Faculties of Medicine and Dentistry);

Humanities and Social Sciences (comprising the Faculty of Arts);

Performing Arts, Law, Architecture and Urban Design, and Economics and Commerce (PALACE);

Science (comprising the Faculty of Science).

The University gives a high priority to the quality of its teaching. Courses encompass the latest developments in knowledge and understanding while providing a sound basis for subsequent employment, professional training and postgraduate study. In addition the University has an excellent international reputation for the quality of its research, which in turn reinforces the up to date nature of its teaching programs. Many graduating students pursue further studies by way of coursework and research at postgraduate level. The individual welfare of students is a major institutional priority of the University and is supported by a network of staff and services which are outlined in this Guide.

The Campuses

The University of Adelaide has four campuses within the city, the metropolitan area and the nearby countryside. Several research stations and experimental facilities are within an hour's drive of the city.

North Terrace

The main campus of the University, where most research facilities and Departments are located, is on North Terrace, Adelaide, between the cultural, intellectual and commercial heart of the inner city and the parklands surrounding it. The North Terrace Campus neighbours the Museum, the Art Gallery, the State Library, the Festival Centre, the Botanic Gardens and The University of South Australia.

Roseworthy

The Roseworthy Campus is located 50km north of Adelaide, near the historic town of Gawler, which has a population of 15,000, and is only a 30 minute drive from the world famous Barossa Valley wine growing region.

Roseworthy is a residential campus, situated on 1600 hectares of prime South Australian farming land, and offers its 650 students a practical insight into dryland farming systems (particularly cereal, pulse, oilseed and wool production in a Mediterranean climate), natural resource management, agricultural business and marketing.

Thebarton

The Thebarton Campus is located on the River Torrens approximately four kilometres from the North Terrace Campus. The site has been developed as a Commerce and Research Precinct, housing commercial and industrial enterprises and University research activities involving postgraduate students. The Precinct provides an opportunity for an important interface between The University of Adelaide and Australian business and industry.

Waite

The Waite Campus is situated at Glen Osmond, eight kilometres southeast of the city centre, where part of the Bachelor of Agricultural Science and postgraduate agriculture courses are taught. The Waite occupies an outstanding position in agricultural research, in Australia and overseas.

The Council and Senate

The governing body of the University is the Council, which, under Section 9 of the University of Adelaide Act, has as its principal responsibilities:

- (a) overseeing the management and development of the University
- (b) devising or approving strategic plans and major policies for the University and
- (c) monitoring and reviewing the operations of the University.

The Council comprises the Chancellor, the Vice-Chancellor, seven external members who are appointed by a Selection Committee chaired by the Chancellor, three external members elected by the Senate, three academic staff elected by the academic staff, two general staff elected by the general staff, two undergraduate students elected by undergraduate students and one postgraduate student elected by postgraduate students: 20 in total.

The Vice-Chancellor is the Chief Executive Officer and is responsible to the Council for the management of the University. The main advisory body to the Vice-Chancellor is the Vice-Chancellor's Committee, chaired by the Vice-Chancellor. Its members are the Deputy Vice-Chancellor; Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Research); Director, Student and Staff Services; Director, Finance and Infrastructure; Convenor, Academic Board; and the six Heads of Divisions. There are four principal committees of Council which also provide advice both to the Council and Vice-Chancellor: the Academic Board, the Finance Committee, the Senior Salaries and Industrial Relations Committee and the Student Affairs Committee. A fifth committee, the Audit and Compliance Committee, is likely to be established soon.

All statutes, regulations and amendments to them must be approved by the Senate, which meets each year in November, and confirmed by the Governor, before they can become effective.

The Senate includes all graduates of the University, all full-time staff who are graduates of other universities recognised by The University of Adelaide and all postgraduate students. It meets each year in November. Any business of the University that is to be implemented by way of statutes or regulations must be approved by the Senate and confirmed by the Governor before it can become effective.

Committees, Faculties and Boards

The Student Affairs Committee offers advice to University Council and the Vice-Chancellor on matters of significance affecting students. It is convened by a student member of Council and about half its members are students. Students who wish to have matters raised in this committee can do so by contacting any of the student members through the Students' Association or the Postgraduate Students' Association.

The Academic Board advises the Vice-Chancellor's Committee or Council on academic and educational policies and broad issues of concern. It has about 120 members including all Heads of Divisions, Deans of Faculties and Heads of Departments, as well as undergraduate and postgraduate students. Information about meeting times and membership of these committees can be obtained from the Secretariat (ph: (08) 8303 5871).

Of more immediate impact from the students' point of view however are the eleven Faculty Boards and the Board of Graduate Studies, which effectively control the degree and diploma courses. The Faculty Boards and the Board of Graduate Studies are responsible for the structure, scope and content of University courses.

As their names imply, the Finance Committee is concerned with the financial aspects of University management and the Senior Salaries and Industrial Relations Committee with the relationships between the University as an employer and its staff.

Statutes, Regulations, Rules and By-laws

For every degree and diploma course Regulations are made which establish that course. Changes in these Regulations require the approval of the University Council, the Senate, and the Governor of South Australia in Executive Council.

Details, such as subjects available and the structure of the course, are set out in the Specific Course Rules made by the Council. The Specific Course Rules appear in The University Calendar, Volume II immediately after the Regulations; they are followed by the Syllabuses for each of the subjects concerned. The Statutes, which are published in The University Calendar, Volume I govern matters other than degree or diploma courses. They require approval in the same manner as the Regulations. The University's By-laws, for contravention of which penalties are laid down, govern such matters as trespass, parking and traffic, disorderly behaviour. They also are published in The University Calendar, Volume I. Rules, made by the Council, govern the use of the library, laboratories, lecture rooms and the conduct of examinations, etc. and are in the General Course Rules in the University Calendar, Volume II, 1998.

such as accounts, buildings, grounds, information technology networks, information systems etc. The Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Research) oversees library services, and postgraduate studies and scholarships, in particular.

The Vice-Chancellor, Deputy Vice-Chancellors and Directors

The Vice-Chancellor, Professor Mary O'Kane, is the chief executive officer of the University. She is supported by Deputy Vice-Chancellors, Professor Doug McEachern, and the Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Research), Professor Ross Milbourne (from December 1997), as well as the Director, Finance and Infrastructure and the Director, Student and Staff Services.

The Director, Student and Staff Services oversees the administrative or service functions related to students, such as international programs, student records, health and counselling, admissions and access, commemorations etc. The Director, Finance and Infrastructure oversees the University's financial and physical resources,

Undergraduate Course Advisers

Each Faculty/School has appointed at least one course adviser to assist students with choosing subjects and, where required, to approve the subjects for which they may be permitted to enrol.

Course Advisers are available for consultation throughout the year and students who feel that they are in need of advice, or who wish to discuss any problems relating to their studies, should contact a Course Adviser. The names of Course Advisers for 1998 may be obtained from your Faculty Office or the Student Information Office.

Grants may be sought to provide assistance with general living and study expenses, to subsidise accommodation costs, particularly for students from rural and isolated areas, to assist in the purchase of necessary equipment related to the applicant's field of study, for small research grants, including travel associated with research, and for any other purpose approved by the Union Board. Grants will not normally be made to pay tuition, Union, or other administrative fees and charges.

Students who indicate on their enrolment form that they intend to complete their studies that year will receive an application form which should be completed and returned to the Student Information Office. If you wish to apply to graduate and have not received a form by the end of November, contact the Student Information Office, Student Administration Branch, ph: (08) 8303 5208.

Health Services

All students enrolled at the University may consult the doctors at the Health Service located at Level 1 of the Horace Lamb Building, ph: (08) 8303 5050.

Students newly enrolled at the University are encouraged to attend the Health Service to acquaint themselves with the medical staff and the services available. These include medical consultations for both acute and chronic conditions, sexual counselling and contraceptive advice, treatment of emotional problems and psychiatric conditions, liaison with other welfare services and with academic and administrative staff of the University, immunisation advice (including overseas travel), sports injury management and referral for specialist medical advice. All consultations are strictly confidential.

New students with a chronic medical condition or medical disability are encouraged to attend the Health Service to discuss areas in which assistance can be provided.

The Health Service is currently staffed by Dr John Setchell, Director, Dr Anna Neoh, Dr Priscilla Whittle and a nurse, Judy Benson. Student consultations for services attracting medical benefits are bulk-billed. Students should bring their own or their parent's Medicare card along to each consultation. Overseas students' accounts are processed through Medibank Private Insurance: the cheque received from Medibank Private is accepted as full payment by the Health Service.

The Health Service is open from Monday to Friday 9.00 am to 5.00 pm (except public holidays). After-hours acute medical care can be obtained at the Emergency Departments of any public hospital or through the Locum service (ph: 8303 5050).

There is an occupational health/student health nurse at Waite Campus (Sr Ellen Moore, ph: 8303 7498) and at Roseworthy Campus (Sr Kerrie Barnett, ph: 8303 7884).

For details of the University's policy regarding AIDS and Hepatitis B, refer to Section III of the Student Guide. This is particularly relevant to Dentistry and Medicine students.

Higher Education Contribution Scheme (HECS)

Under HECS, students who enrol in higher education award courses, which are funded by the Commonwealth Government are required to pay a part of the cost of their course.

The HECS charge is incurred on a semester basis, and is determined by the workload in which you are enrolled on the Census Dates: 31 March for semester 1 and 31 August for semester 2. Any increase in your workload in that semester after those dates will cause an adjustment to your HECS liability. However, any decrease in workload will not cause a decrease in your HECS liability.

In 1997, the Commonwealth Government introduced a new 3-tiered HECS system. This affects students who have not previously studied on a HECS-liable basis. HECS under this system is calculated on a per-subject basis, where each subject is classified into one of the 3 bands, and the cost of that subject determined by multiplying that subject's workload by the HECS charge for that band.

HECS can still be paid in 2 ways: the 'up-front' option, where students pay the University at the beginning of the semester, and receive a 25% discount, or the "deferred payment" option, where HECS is paid as part of PAYE income tax when students join the workforce.

Students opting for the deferred method may make lump sum payments of $500 or more before the 'due by' date for the relevant semester, for which they will receive a discount (the level of discount has not yet been confirmed in legislation).

Students who wish to pay upfront will receive an invoice for the upfront fee for semester 1 in January (due on 15 March), and in July for second semester (due date of 15 August). Note: invoices will be sent to the student's semester address.

HECS affects each student differently, depending on such factors as payment option and course load. The Australian Tax Office and DEETYA have published a booklet 'HECS: Your Questions Answered' and students must read this booklet before signing a HECS payment option form. Copies of this booklet will be given to all new students at the Enrolment Centre, and are available from the Student Information Office and the Student's Association Office.

5UV runs a number of training programs from a Graduate Diploma to a TAFE certificate course to its own internal accredited training.

Student Information Office (SIO)

Confused? Go to the SIO!

To make it easier for students to find their way through the University bureaucracy, the Branch has set up a Student Information Office, located on Level 4 of the Wills Building - entry is through the foyer next to the Post Office or via Wills Court (next to the pond).

If you have any queries relating to the services of the Branch or about who to go to in the University, this can be your first point of contact.

At the SIO you can do many things including:

- lodge forms for change of name and address, amendments to enrolments signed by your Faculty, applications to graduate, requests for academic transcripts and most other forms that are the responsibility of the Branch
- pick up degree certificates, get transcripts and railway transport concession cards
- pick up course information and student-related publications, read official documents about University policies and procedures
- find out who is the relevant officer in the Branch or the University who can help you with your query and get directions and maps to get you there
- find out what you are enrolled in and confirm what credit you have been given on account of previous studies
- gain general information on admission matters.

Academic Transcripts

All students, past or present, of the University may apply at any time for a statement of their academic record. Information about Academic Transcripts and the fees applicable may be obtained on request from the Student Information Office (SIO).

All information supplied by a student for University purposes and all details of a student's academic record are regarded as confidential. Accordingly, Academic Transcripts are issued only on written request by the student concerned or with his/her written consent. The academic record and the student correspondence file may, on request and under supervision of the Head, Student Administration Branch, be inspected by the student concerned.

Change of Address/Telephone Number

Students who change their semester or permanent home address (or telephone number) should immediately notify the University in writing. You can call in person at the Student Information Office (SIO), Level 4, of the Wills Building, and complete a 'Change of Personal Details' form. This will ensure that you receive all future notices, refund of Union Fees (if applicable), notification of results, etc without delay.

Section II: Supports and Services

Change of Name

A student's name is initially recorded as the name given by the student when first enrolling. That name may not be changed unless students provide documentary evidence of their legal name. If you wish to change your name with the University, lodge a 'Change of Personal details' form with the Student Information Office (SIO), accompanied by the appropriate documentary evidence (eg birth certificate, marriage certificate, passport etc). Please note that the SIO must sight either the original documentation or certified copies.

If you want more detailed and technical information, the Branch offers the following services:

Admissions Office

The Admissions Office undertakes the coordination of the admissions cycle each year for undergraduate courses. General information on admission to the University is available from the Student Information Office. The Admissions Office is able to supplement this information and provide a range of services to individual students. These include the assessment of overseas qualifications, advice on University policies and procedures regarding entry and issues of concern to students considering enrolling in an undergraduate course for the first time.

Careers Service

The Careers Service assists students and graduates with their career planning. Students need to begin their career planning early in their studies to ensure a smooth transition from University to paid employment. The Careers Service runs a Careers education program including a series of workshops on preparation for employment, an Employers' recruitment program, maintains a resource library of employer information and regularly publishes a careers newsletter.

Commemorations

The Student Administration Branch organises and coordinates the University's commemoration ceremonies in Australia in April/May and October, and the overseas award presentations, usually in May/June. For details of graduation ceremonies and procedures for application for students intending to complete their courses in the current year, please refer to the 'Graduation/Commemoration Ceremonies' section of this Guide.

Enrolments

The Student Administration Branch organises and coordinates the Enrolment process for new and continuing students. New students receive notification on enrolment details with their SATAC offer. Continuing students (including students who withdrew from their studies after March 31, 1998) receive their enrolment information by mail late in Semester 2.

Examinations

The Student Administration Branch organises and coordinates the University's examination sessions both on campus and at Wayville. For information on examinations and supplementary examinations please refer to the 'Examinations' section of this Guide.

Higher Education Contribution Scheme (HECS)

The Student Administration Branch is responsible for administering HECS on behalf of the University and for providing data on students' enrolment to the Australian Taxation Office.

Information about how HECS is administered is available from the Student Information Office. If you would like to discuss specific issues relating to your HECS liability, you should make an appointment with the HECS Officer, by first contacting the Student Information Office.

Publications for students

Various publications are produced by the Branch (in collaboration with the Faculties and other administrative units of the University) which provide information to students about courses, services and careers. The Branch produces the Undergraduate Prospectus, Faculty Information Leaflets, The University Calendar (Vol II), Student Guide and Timetable and various other publications. These can be consulted in the Student Information Office on Level 4 of the Wills Building. The Calendar Volume II: Handbook of Courses can be purchased ($15) at Unibooks, Level 1, Union Building.

Schools and Community Liaison

The Branch provides ongoing information and advice to prospective and continuing students, school counsellors and the community on courses available and procedures for application and/or transferring courses. Information (Open Day, Pre-enrolment Talks and the Preliminary Class Timetable) are also coordinated by the Schools and Community Liaison Officers.

Student Records

The Student Records Office is situated on Level 5 of the Wills Building. Entry can be made either by the door facing the Art Gallery (Western Drive), the door facing the top of the waterfall in the Wills court, or the lift from the Hughes Plaza.

The University maintains a record of information associated with each student's course of study. The record is confined to academic matters and includes such details as enrolments, examination results, status, prizes and awards. Responsibility for your official record rests with the Student Records Office.

Student Mail

All students are assigned a mailbox for internal mail. At the time of enrolment, students are asked to nominate (on the enrolment form) the department where they would like to receive their mail. You can change your mail box location up to 27 February 1998 by lodging a 'Change of Personal Details' form with the Student Records Office but please note that no changes will be acceptable after that date. Check your mailbox regularly as important information is often sent through the internal mail.

Students' Association (SAUA)

Upon enrolling at University you automatically become a member of the Students' Association. The SAUA is an autonomous affiliate of the Adelaide University Union to which you paid your Union fee. The role of the SAUA is to represent all Adelaide University students to the Government, to our University and finally to the wider community.

The SAUA is run by student office bearers, dedicated SAUA staff and last, but not least, students not unlike yourself. Decisions of the Association are made by SAUA Council and its sub-committees whose members are elected from the student community during our annual elections. The Students' Association provides representation, some services and runs activities for the 13,000 students on all our campuses.

The SAUA Office Bearers for 1998 are:

President:	Sophie Allouache
Education Vice-President:	Sky Mykyta
Activities/Campaigns Vice-President:	Alida Parente
Women's Officer:	Kate Sowerby
Environment Officer:	Danielle Kowalski
Orientation Coordinator:	Ben Allgrove

The Students' Association is also your voice in the University itself. SAUA representatives sit on many University committees advocating on your behalf, whether it be on teaching quality, returning exam papers, issues of equal opportunity or health and safety requirements. If there is something you see that is happening at University that needs changing or you have any suggestions come in and tell us. That's why we are here.

Section III: rules and procedures

Students are referred to the section General Course Rules in the Calendar, Volume II, 1998 for details of rules pertaining to their studies. For convenience some of the rules are reproduced below, either in full or summary. For further information on official University policies and structures please contact the office of the Director, Student and Staff Services.

AIDS/Hepatitis B

The University's policy on AIDS and Hepatitis B provides that all students, staff and visitors are guaranteed the following protection:

- the right to confidentiality
- a study or work environment free from discrimination and harassment
- access to clearly defined grievance procedures.

Information is provided by the University Health Service, the Counselling Centre and the Education and Welfare Officers.

The Faculty of Dentistry and the Faculty of Medicine require all undergraduate and postgraduate students entering the Faculty for the first time to attend the University Health Service within four weeks of their initial enrolment for advice regarding investigation of their Hepatitis B status and subsequent Hepatitis B immunisation. Counselling on 'duty of care' in relation to infectious diseases is provided.

All clinical students are required to abide by those hygiene rules laid down by the clinics and hospitals which they attend. For further details please refer to General Course Rules in the Calendar, Volume II, 1998.

Assessment Procedures

Brief details of the assessment procedures for all subjects are given in the relevant syllabuses outlined in the Calendar, Volume II. Precise details of the assessment methods should be determined no later than two weeks after the commencement of the subject and will be available from the Department concerned. These will include the methods of examination and assessment in that subject and the relative weights given to the various components (eg, assessments, semester or mid-year tests, essays or other written or practical work, final written examinations, viva voce examination, etc.). In many subjects, but not all, students are given an opportunity to redeem any assessed work that has been failed.

Undergraduate students

For information and advice on assessment matters contact your subject coordinator, Head of Department, Faculty Course Adviser, Faculty Registrar or the Students' Association. Names, phone numbers and locations of the Faculty Registrars are listed in the front of this Guide.

Postgraduate students

For information and advice on supervision and related matters, contact your Supervisor, Departmental Postgraduate Coordinator, the Dean of Graduate Studies or the Postgraduate Students Association.

All postgraduate students should receive a copy of The University of Adelaide Code of Practice. If you do not, please contact the Graduate Studies Branch to obtain one.

Assessment Policy and Appeals

The Assessment Policy establishes principles and procedures under which Departments assess students' work, and under which students may claim a review of an assessment mark or seek resolution of a grievance about assessment or academic status for work done elsewhere. The general principles reflect existing practices in the University: but do not apply in their entirety to every course or discipline; some Faculties and Departments follow additional assessment principles to meet specific needs.

Departmental Assessment Committees provide a forum within which staff and students periodically review assessment processes and make recommendations to the Head of Department, and where disputes may be resolved. The Student Academic Appeals Committee considers assessment and other grievances that cannot be resolved at Departmental level. Its role is primarily to ensure due process and fairness: in assessment appeals it would not override the academic judgement of academic staff expert in a subject, but on occasions it may need to moderate the judgement of one expert with that of others. If the basic principles and procedures in assessment are followed at the Departmental level, there should seldom be grounds on which a student could justifiably appeal.

Students are expected to exercise, responsibly, their right to appeal in assessment matters and to do so only where they believe they have reasonable grounds for expecting a higher mark. If the procedures are exploited merely in the hope of improving marks, the extra assessment load could become so burdensome that the right of appeal would have to be reviewed.

General Assessment Policy Principles

- 1 Types of assessed work should be appropriate to the learning objectives of the subject.
- 2 As much assessed work as possible should be discussed with the students who produced it. Where appropriate, it should be returned with written comments, to provide feedback about their strengths and weaknesses.
- 3 The total burden of assessed work should not be such as to affect students' approaches to learning in ways that are inconsistent with the learning objectives of the subject.
- 4 In many disciplines, there are a variety of ways in which students may demonstrate their understanding and mastery of subject matter and techniques. Where this is compatible with the need to assess various objectives, students should be given some choice in the types of work they submit, or the relative weight of different components. In some disciplines it will be appropriate for students to have some choice in the particular subject matter they focus on.
- 5 Departments should, with the active participation of students, periodically review the methods of assessment, the relative importance and validity of different types of assessment, the range of choice and the quantity of work required.
- 6 Students should have the opportunity to undertake supplementary assessment if they fail a subject, provided that they have made a reasonable effort, and it is considered that they have a reasonable possibility of passing at the second attempt (see also Supplementary examinations below). Where a substantial piece of work submitted during the teaching of a subject is judged below pass standard, the student should have the opportunity to submit another piece of work for assessment.
- 7 Departments are required to inform all students in writing, either before or within the first two weeks of the teaching of each subject, precisely what its assessment requirements are, including any choices, deadlines, opportunity for re-submission or supplementary assessment, etc. Opportunity should be given for students to ask questions and discuss the modes of assessment.
- 8 Where practicable, assessment procedures should be designed to allow for the participation of more than one assessor for each student. (It is recognised that many specialist subjects in the later years of courses are taught and assessed by one person. Departmental moderation of standards is advisable to ensure maintenance of comparability.)
- 9 Departments should take steps to ensure accuracy and to guard against bias. Checking of additions, and of the assessment of students with marks at the borderline between assessment grades, should be standard procedure. Anonymity of work submitted may be desirable as a protection against bias.

Assessment Procedures and Appeals

1 Departmental Assessment Committees

- 1 All Departments shall have an Assessment Committee consisting of staff and students; it may be an existing sub-committee of the Departmental Committee with other functions as well (in small Departments it could appropriately be the Departmental Committee itself).
- 2 The Committee should be primarily concerned with giving advice and making recommendations on assessment matters, including assessment disputes. Every staff member and student has the right to refer any assessment matter to this Committee.
- 3 The Committee shall be concerned with assessment in coursework subjects, not theses or research projects.
- 4 The Committee shall periodically review assessment schemes and procedures, and their relationship to course aims.
- 5 The Committee may receive complaints from staff or students relating to assessment schemes, the way an assessment scheme or procedure has been administered or the fairness of assessments actually made. (For appeals procedures against particular assessments, see Appeals below)
- 6 The Committee shall act as a lower tribunal in hearing allegations of offences against Statute Chapter XVII or against particular Faculty or Departmental rules concerning assessment.

2 Right to Request Review of Assessment

- 1 Where qualitative judgement is involved in assessment, a student may request that a piece of work assessed by one person be re-assessed, if, after discussing the piece of work and the mark with the assessor, the student remains aggrieved about the mark awarded.

- 2 In the first instance the request should be made to the lecturer in charge of the subject. If, after discussing the result with the lecturer, the student still wishes to have it re-assessed, the lecturer in charge should arrange for this to be done by a different person in the Department or elsewhere in the University, wherever this is practicable.
- 3 If the assessor is the only person assessing the subject, the student may make the request to the Head of Department, who should appoint a second assessor, unless there is no appropriately qualified person available.
- 4 The second assessor shall independently mark the piece of work. The two assessors shall then compare marks and endeavour to reach an agreed mark. If the two cannot agree, the Head of Department shall decide what mark shall be awarded.
- 5 If a student is denied a request for a second assessor, the student may take the matter to the Departmental Assessment Committee.
- 6 The Departmental Assessment Committee shall consider whether the student's grounds for requesting a second assessor are sufficient and, if so, advise the Head of Department to appoint a second assessor. If there is no appropriately qualified person available within the University, the Head, after consulting the lecturer in charge of a subject, shall ask an appropriate person outside the University to re-assess the work.

- 7 Where two or more staff members teach a subject, in which qualitative judgement forms a significant part of the assessment, at least two assessors should, whenever practicable, take part in the assessment of each student. No student should be given a Fail for such a subject unless two assessors have assessed at least part of that student's work, and agree that a Fail classification is appropriate.
- 8 A student who has been denied a request by the Departmental Assessment Committee for a second assessor may appeal to the Student Academic Appeals Committee (see below).

3 Assessment Appeals

- 1 Any student dissatisfied with the final grade awarded for a subject should discuss the result with the lecturer in charge of the subject as soon as possible after being notified of the result. If the student is still not satisfied with the result, he or she may lodge an appeal with the Head of Department.
- 2 The Head of Department may endeavour to resolve the matter, or refer it directly to the Departmental Assessment Committee. The student shall in any case have the right to take the matter to the Committee.
- 3 The Committee shall consider the appeal, discussing the matter with the student, the Head of Department and all staff members who have participated in assessing the subject, and may seek advice from other persons as it thinks fit.
- 4 The Committee shall make a recommendation to the Head of Department who shall either accept it or refer it to the full Departmental Committee for further advice and shall inform the student of the Department's decision.

- 5 Where the examining body is a Faculty Board of Examiners, the student should discuss the result with the convener of the Board of Examiners, and may appeal to the Faculty Student Matters Committee.
- 6 A student who believes he or she has not been justly dealt with by the foregoing process may appeal to the Student Academic Appeals Committee.

4 Preclusion

Please refer to the sections on Review of Academic Progress and Grievance Procedures for assistance with appeals. Details are also contained in the General Course Rules in the Calendar, Volume II.

5 Student Academic Appeals Committee

- 1 Students shall have the right to appeal against final grades for subjects and committee decisions concerning assessment procedures. (The Student Academic Appeals Committee shall not hear appeals relating to misconduct.)
- 2 The following appeals policy and procedures do not apply to the progress or examination of postgraduate theses or research projects, for which the appeal body is the Board of Graduate Studies.
- 3 The Student Academic Appeals Committee shall be composed as follows:
 - two members of Council who are not employees or students of the University
 - two members of the academic staff who are not members of the Department/s concerned in the appeal
 - two students who are not enrolled for subjects in the Department or Departments concerned in the appeal.

For appeals concerning administrative operations of the University, a nominee of the Registrar shall be added to the Committee.

- 4 The Council shall appoint the two Council members, one of them to be Convenor of the Committee. The Vice-Chancellor shall nominate six members of the academic staff and, in consultation with the Students' Association, six students to a pool of potential Committee members. On notification by a student of intention to appeal, the Secretary of the Student Academic Appeals Committee shall select two academic and two student representatives from this pool in accordance with the restriction specified above.
- 5 An appeal against a decision shall be heard after the student concerned gives notice in writing of intention to appeal. Notice of appeal must give all relevant information regarding attempts which have been made to have the decision changed, and state the grounds for the appeal. Where there is no evidence that the matter has been previously taken to the appropriate Departmental or Faculty Committee the appeal will not be heard.
- 6 Adequate notification of the date of meeting shall be given both to the student and to the Department or Faculty defending the appeal.
- 7 The student may ask a Student Counsellor, another student, a staff member or an officer of a Students' Association to assist in presenting the appeal.
- 8 The Appeals Committee shall determine its own procedures, but shall not itself re-assess a student's work which may be in dispute. If satisfied that there are sufficient grounds for so doing, it may order that a piece of work be re-assessed by a person with appropriate expertise outside the Department concerned, selected in consultation with the Head of Department.

- 9 The Academic Appeals Committee may refuse to continue hearing an appeal or complaint if it decides that the appeal or complaint is vexatious or malicious.

note: malicious or persistently vexatious appeals or complaints against individual members of the academic staff, or against Departments may be treated as misconduct, and the student may be proceeded against by an affected member of the University, or by the Student Academic Appeals Committee, under the Statutes, Chapter XII, which provide that 'misconduct means any unjustified act or omission of a student which adversely affects the University or any member of the University in his or her capacity as such'.

Class Attendance

Students are normally required to attend lectures, tutorials, laboratory or other practical work, and/or field work.

Departments vary in their emphasis on attendance at classes and students are advised to check with the Department/s about requirements at the beginning of the year.

Students who are not permitted to sit an examination for assessment in a subject because of unsatisfactory attendance or unsatisfactory work will have a 'fail' recorded for that subject.

Students are advised to check the Specific Course Rules in the Calendar, Volume II 1998, since the attendance requirements may vary from course to course.

Computing Facilities

1 General

Computing facilities provided by the University for students are primarily for use in association with a course of study and activities related to that course.

It is expected that all students will make use of University computing facilities in a manner which is ethical, legal and does not interfere with use by others.

Failure to abide by the following rules will be treated as misconduct and may result in disciplinary action.

2 Rules for students

- (a) You may use only those facilities which have been authorised for your use. If access is protected by a password, you may not make this password available to others. You may not use any account set up for another user; nor may you attempt to find out the password of another user.
- (b) You may only use authorised facilities for authorised purposes. For example, facilities made available for learning and teaching may not be used for private purposes.
- (c) You may not copy any software unless it is your own, or it is public domain software, or the copying has been authorised by the University. In practice, there will be very few situations in which it is permitted to copy software. If in doubt, do not copy.
- (d) You may not attempt to copy information belonging to other users (whether they be staff, students or others) without their express permission.
- (e) You may not attempt to interfere with the operation of computing facilities.
- (f) You may not attempt to subvert the security of any of the University's computing facilities.
- (g) You may not use the University's computing facilities to send obscene, offensive or harassing messages.

3 Breach of Rules

- (a) Failure to observe these requirements could mean that an action for misconduct will be brought against you. The University's Board of Conduct has the power to impose a fine of up to $100 or suspend a student's right to use any University facility for up to one year. It can also recommend to Council that a student be suspended or expelled from the University.
- (b) Misconduct that amounts to sexual harassment may be dealt with by the University's Sexual Harassment Committee. Some types of harassment or offensive conduct may be in breach of the Equal Opportunities Act.
- (c) Some forms of conduct may be criminal offences. These include hacking, theft, and unauthorised copying. Using a password protected computer system without authority could result in a fine of up to $2000 and imprisonment. Sending an offensive message may also be a criminal offence.
- (d) Some conduct, in particular unauthorised copying, could result in civil legal action being taken against you.
- (e) Academic staff have a general power to dismiss students from their classes if they consider the student is disrupting the class; and a Chairman of department may exclude any student from any class in that department 'for any cause he or she shall deem sufficient'. (Such exclusion may be reversed, varied or confirmed by University Council).
- (f) Breaches or suspected breaches of the rules should be reported to a supervisor, the Chairman of the relevant Local Management Group, or the Director, University Computing Services.

Course Overloads

Students who contemplate undertaking more than a normal course load must obtain approval of their course from their Faculty's Course Adviser. If a student is enrolled in two Faculties, approval of one adviser from each Faculty is required.

If the extra subject or subjects are not included in the Specific Course Rules for their courses, students may be charged non-award tuition fees.

Students should be aware of the full implications of their choice to take a course overload and they may wish to discuss the question with a member of the University's Counselling Centre staff or an Education and Welfare Officer.

Enrolments

Particulars of general procedures for enrolment, the enrolment timetable and Faculty enrolment information are provided in the Student Enrolment Guide, which commencing students receive with their South Australian Tertiary Admission Centre (SATAC) offer. Continuing students are posted an enrolment package and enrolment form in Semester 2. Copies of the Enrolment Guide are available from the Student Information Office, Level 4 of the Wills Building (ph: (08) 8303 5208).

Students who are unable to be in Adelaide during the enrolment period may authorise, in writing, another person to enrol on their behalf (students are requested to use the authorisation slip contained in the Student Enrolment Guide). However, students are strongly advised to lodge their enrolments in person.

An enrolment lodged outside the enrolment period may be subject to a $50 late fee (see University Charges).

Enrolment and amendment to enrolment

Students who have lodged an enrolment form will have their enrolment recorded in the University's official records in accordance with the information they have provided on that form.

Re-enrolling students who owe fees or charges or have Library commitments will not be permitted to re-enrol until the outstanding obligations have been met. Students wishing to add, withdraw from, or alter subjects, must complete an 'Amendment to Enrolment Form' (available from your Faculty Office or the Student Information Office). The form must be approved in accordance with the relevant Faculty procedures and lodged at the Faculty office.

Amendments made to your enrolment may result in an increase or decrease in fees. A new fee statement will be forwarded to you with a revised due date for payment of any additional fees. Withdrawal of subject before a census date (see below), may result in a reduction of fees.

Students should note that, after their initial enrolment, it will not be possible to change any of their enrolment details before Orientation week, except on one day only - 14 February. This may affect entry into quota subjects and restrict timetable alternatives. If you are unsure about any of your subject choices you should discuss the matter with a Faculty Course Adviser.

Withdrawal dates - 1998

If you withdraw from your course completely before 31 March*, your enrolment will be deleted. If you withdraw from Semester 1 or Full Year subjects before 31 March or from Semester 2 subjects before 29 August your enrolment in these subjects will be deleted. (Deletion means that your enrolment in that course/subject will not be recorded on your official transcript.)

Withdrawal of subjects may result in a reduction in fees. However, withdrawal of subjects after the census date incurs a WF/WNF result on your record and you will still be liable for University fees.

Students who fully withdraw from their course by 31 March but who wish to pursue the option of studying in the course in the following year must advise the South Australian Tertiary Admission Centre (SATAC) that they wish to defer their offer of admission.

The last dates for withdrawing from subjects without the withdrawal counting as a failure (WNF) for 1997 are as follows:

Semester 1 subjects:	15 May
Semester 2 subjects:	9 October
Full Year subjects:	21 August

The last dates for withdrawing from subjects (WF) for 1997 are as follows:

Semester 1 subjects:	19 June
Semester 2 subjects:	13 November
Full Year subjects:	13 November

Students should realise the importance of this matter in relation to the annual review of academic progress conducted by Faculties. Withdrawals which are regarded as failures may result in students being precluded from taking further studies in their course.

Students who may be contemplating withdrawing are strongly advised to consider carefully all the relevant factors before reaching a decision. In particular, before deciding to withdraw completely, they should investigate whether, with suitable available assistance or modification of their course, they might be able to continue their studies. They may find it helpful first to consult one or more of the following: their Faculty Course Adviser; their Faculty Registrar; the University Health Service; the Counselling Service or the Education/Welfare Officers. With the exception of the Faculty Course Advisers, the names, locations and telephone numbers of these officers are contained at the front of this Guide.

Examinations

Most examinations are held in June, July, November and January. (Please refer to the 'Principal Dates' at the beginning of this booklet.)

Timetables indicating dates, times and locations of examinations are posted on the noticeboard in the undercroft of the Napier Building, Johnson Building Verandah, Schulz Building Verandah and Students Association Cloisters, North Terrace Campus, and the Student Notice Boards at Roseworthy and Waite Campuses.

Notification of results

All students are notified of their results by post. Notification of Results is sent to the permanent home address from November to January. This is particularly relevant to International students or students planning to travel. (If the student does not re-enrol, notifications continue to be sent to the home address till April). Mid-year results are sent to the student's semester address.

Rules for the conduct of examinations (excerpts from statutes):

- No candidate shall enter the examination room during any examination more than forty minutes after the time fixed for the beginning of the reading period of the examination except with the consent of a Supervisor.
- No candidate shall be allowed to leave the examination room during any examination before forty minutes have elapsed from the commencement of the reading period of the examination except with the consent of a Supervisor.
- A candidate who wishes to leave the room temporarily must obtain the consent of a Supervisor before doing so.
- A candidate who leaves the examination room may be permitted to return to it during that examination only at the absolute discretion of a Supervisor.
- When the five-minute warning before the end of the examination is given, all candidates shall remain seated until their examination papers have been collected.
- All candidates shall remain seated until all examination papers have been collected and an announcement is made by a Supervisor that candidates may leave the room.

It is recommended that students carefully read the Statutes, Chapter XVII of 'Examinations and Other Forms of Assessment'.

Special arrangements

A student whose performance in an examination could be affected by a physical condition of a permanent or temporary nature, should consult the Student Health Service as soon as possible.

Students who are unable to sit examinations on certain days or times because of their religious beliefs should contact the Admissions, Examinations and Commemorations Office, Room 555, Wills Building as soon as possible (ph: (08) 8303 5209).

Supplementary examinations

Students who are prevented by illness or circumstances beyond their control from attending an examination, and students who believe that illness or special circumstances have significantly affected their preparation or performance, may apply for a supplementary examination on medical or compassionate grounds. Supplementary examinations may also be granted on academic grounds.

Please note that the University's policy now requires students requesting supplementary examinations to lodge their application with the Faculty Registrar, not the Department.

Academic supplementary examinations

Students are to have the opportunity to undertake supplementary assessment if they fail a subject, provided that they have made a reasonable effort and are considered to have a reasonable chance of passing at the second attempt.

Each department is responsible for defining its policy on academic supplementary examinations so that all students in each subject are treated equally. In many cases, a 'reasonable effort' for the purposes of granting academic supplementary examinations is defined as a result in the range of 40-49. Supplementary examinations tend to be awarded to students who achieve marks of 45-49 and, at the discretion of the examiner or examiners' committee, may be awarded to students who achieve marks of 40-44. However, the award of a supplementary examination is entirely within the discretion of the department and, subject to the department's specific rules, it should not be assumed that a supplementary examination will necessarily be awarded, whatever the mark obtained.

Applications for supplementary examinations on medical or compassionate grounds

Medical information from a student's private doctor is assessed by the University Health Service. Applications for supplementary examinations on medical or compassionate grounds are to be lodged with the Faculty Registrar within seven days of the corresponding primary examinations.

Granting of medical certificates

In order to minimise confusion and to ensure that students are not disadvantaged, the Student Health Service wishes to remind all students of the following important points in relation to applications for supplementary examinations on medical grounds.

- 1 As a general rule, you should attempt the examinations.
- 2 If you submit an application on medical grounds, it will be to your advantage if you are able to see a doctor on the day of the illness so that an accurate assessment of your condition can be made.
- 3 Retrospective certificates are not accepted.
- 4 While the Health Service values the advice from local medical practitioners in making an assessment of each application, the final medical certificate sent to the University Faculties is provided by the Health Service doctors. The category of unfit to sit an examination is reserved for major illness that prevents attendance at the examination. It may be that advice to you from your local doctor that you are unfit is not supported by clinical symptoms and signs that are documented.
- 5 As a general rule, the Health Service does not consider minor ailments such as colds and mild respiratory infections as grounds for being certified unfit to sit an exam.

- 6 The advice provided to the University Faculties/Academic staff by the Health Service (on your behalf) is advice - the Health Service does not make the decision on whether or not you are granted a supplementary. That decision remains the responsibility of the Academic staff.

Supplementary examination period

The principal supplementary examination period is in January. However, supplementary examinations for some semester 1 subjects are held in July, and for some semester 2 and full-year subjects in December. Where the approved assessment procedures for a subject include supplementary examinations in July or December, Departments will notify students of offers, dates, times and venues by posting notices on the Departmental notice-board and/or by contacting students directly. Students will need to apply directly to the relevant Faculty concerned with appropriate supporting evidence if they seek supplementary examinations in July or December on medical or compassionate grounds. Students granted supplementary examinations in January will be notified at the same time as they are notified by mail in December of their official final results in each subject in which they are enrolled. January supplementary examinations are conducted in Adelaide.

Alternative examinations will not be arranged by the Examinations Office for students whose permanent address is in Australia but who may be absent from Adelaide for reasons not connected with their course of study.

Students planning to go away on holidays during the long vacation are advised to take this into account. Student Travel Australia (Union House) provides insurance coverage for students interrupting travel in order to return to Adelaide to sit supplementary examinations.

Students whose permanent address is overseas and who have returned to their home country are eligible to sit for January supplementary examinations offered in overseas testing centres at designated locations. In 1998, these are Hong Kong, Kuala Lumpur, Singapore. Should a student wish to take up this offer, charges apply.

Please check with the Examinations Office for the latest information.

Recording of Results

The granting of medical and compassionate supplementary examinations and of academic supplementary examinations in which a 'reasonable effort' is discretionary (eg in the 40–44 range of marks as above) shall be made by a committee of department or Faculty examiners, not by individual examiners, to foster equity and consistency within each department.

Academic grounds

Where students have undertaken supplementary examinations on academic grounds only the final result will be recorded on the academic transcript. For students who pass subjects after academic supplementary examinations, the maximum result that may be recorded on the academic transcript is the minimum result which will allow the student to pass to the next level in a subject: viz 50 Pass for those subjects with the grading scheme of D, C, P CP and F or 55 Pass Division 1 for those subjects with the grading scheme of D, C, P1, P2 and F.

For subjects with the grading scheme of D, C, P1, P2 and F, a result of 50 Pass Division 2 may also be recorded on the transcript. That is, in cases where a student can achieve the maximum Pass result in the subject but cannot proceed to the next level in the discipline if a Pass Division 1 is required. For example, a final mark of 53 after a supplementary examination in Biology I will be recorded on the transcript as 50 P2. This would allow the subject to be counted towards the student's degree but would not permit the student to enrol in Botany II or any other subject for which Biology I is a prerequisite.

Medical, Compassionate and Mixed grounds

The result of a supplementary examination granted on medical, compassionate or mixed grounds will be classified and the final result entered as the single final result in the subject.

Grievance Procedures

As a student at The University of Adelaide you may at times encounter problems with your course or with some other aspect of University life. If you believe that you have a legitimate grievance you are encouraged to lodge a complaint.

The University's policies and procedures are intended to provide fair and adequate means by which to air grievances, and students are expected to act responsibly when doing so. Grievances should be resolved at an informal level wherever possible, and most can be resolved quickly by direct discussion between the individuals concerned. If this is not possible, however, there are formal procedures and timelines to ensure that the complaint is dealt with as quickly as possible.

The following guidelines are a summary of Student Grievances: Policies and Procedures. A full copy of this document is available from the persons listed under the heading Assistance, Mediation and Advocacy.

Students who have queries or need advice about the policies and procedures should contact the Students' Association (George Murray Building, north-eastern corner of the Cloisters, ph: (08) 8303 5406/5388/5760; fax: (08) 8223 2412).

These rules apply generally to all students of the University, and in particular to all undergraduate students, including Honours students.

The policies and procedures described in this statement belong to the category of grievances pursued by students against the institution, for which the Student Appeals Committee is the ultimate decision-making body under the authority of the Council.

Types of Grievance

- A Grievances Regarding Assessment Policy and Procedure.
- B Grievances Regarding Academic Programs and Recognition of Prior Learning (Status or Transfer of Credit).
- C Grievances Regarding Administrative Operations.
- D Grievances Regarding Individual Members of Staff.
- E Grievances Regarding Sexual Harassment.
- F Grievances Regarding Equal Opportunity Issues.

General Policy and Procedures Applying to all Forms of Student Grievance Against the University

- 1 Students are expected to raise grievances responsibly, and not frivolously. The University will treat grievances seriously and with due regard to the rights of all parties.
- 2 In its response to grievances raised by students, the University will at all times act expeditiously, with due regard to the need for confidentiality, and use its best endeavours to obtain a resolution which is fair to all parties.
- 3 Wherever possible and consistent with clause 2 above, grievances will be resolved by informal means.

Assistance, Mediation and Advocacy

These procedures recognise that students who have grievances against the University—may desire the assistance of others in their dealings with the matter.

At any time students may consult the Students Association, a Union Education and Welfare Officer, the Director of Equal Opportunity, the Subject Coordinator or the Head of the relevant Department, their Faculty Course/Student Adviser, the appropriate Faculty Registrar, or a Student Counsellor from the University Health and Counselling Service for assistance and advice.

Postgraduate students may also consult the Postgraduate Students Association, or the Departmental Postgraduate Coordinator.

Both the student or students and the staff member involved in a grievance may enlist the aid of a disinterested third party to assist with consultation or negotiation, with a view to resolving the grievance at the informal, oral stage and in confidence.

Advocacy on behalf of the student during the processing of a formal and written complaint or the hearing of an appeal: all persons named above may also be supporters or advocates for students or staff members, as appropriate.

Victimisation

Victimisation of students who lodge complaints is prohibited.

Initial Informal, Oral Consideration

Most grievances can be resolved quickly by direct discussion between the individual student or students and the staff member concerned.

For academic grievances the course coordinator or Head of Department will often be the most able to resolve or clarify the issues involved.

Formal, Written Complaints

If a student's grievance is not resolved to his or her satisfaction by informal and oral consultation or negotiation, and the student decides that it is appropriate to raise the issue as a formal complaint, he or she shall submit the complaint in writing.

Students lodging complaints are expected to prepare clear and appropriately detailed submissions, and in particular to specify the type of grievance to which the complaint belongs, the grounds on which the complaint is lodged (with reference to the relevant clauses of this statement of rules), and the steps which have been taken previously but unsuccessfully to resolve the grievance.

Efficient Processing

Grievances shall be dealt with diligently and expeditiously. The person receiving a formal complaint in writing from the student should normally acknowledge within 7 calendar days such receipt in writing and indicate who will process the application. Generally, the student shall be informed in writing within 30 days of the outcome of the complaint. Where this cannot be achieved for whatever reason the student shall be informed in writing of the reasons for the delay and given a time-line for processing the application.

Informing Students about Progress and Outcome

Students who lodge complaints shall be kept informed about the progress and outcome of their complaint. The final decision shall be notified in writing.

Right of Appeal

If the complaint is not resolved by due process to the satisfaction of the student making the complaint, undergraduate and coursework postgraduate students may appeal to the Student Appeals Committee. Higher degree students may appeal to the Board of Graduate Studies.

Confidentiality

If the student wishes confidentiality to be maintained from the staff member concerned, all activities and proceedings of the person involved in resolving the grievance shall maintain the confidentiality.

Where the matter cannot be resolved while maintaining confidentiality from the staff member concerned, the matter should be clarified with the Director of Equal Opportunity, or appropriate officer.

Student Appeals Committee

The Student Appeals Committee hears appeals arising from complaints by undergraduate students, or by coursework postgraduate students that have not been resolved by the procedures under A, B, C and D.

The Committee's primary role is to ensure, as a final resort, that proper procedures and fairness as provided for in these rules have been applied in dealing with complaints.

The Student Appeals Committee shall not hear appeals relating to misconduct by students. Such appeals are provided for separately, in the Statutes, Chapter XII, Of the Conduct of Students in the University.

Intellectual property produced by students

It is the intention of the University to encourage students to be creative in their pursuit of scholarship, to publish the results of their research and to make them widely available.

If no employment contract exists between the University and a student, the student owns his or her intellectual property.

Intellectual property is mainly that property which is capable of being legally protected and includes: patentable and non-patentable inventions; registrable designs; trade marks; works subject to copyright (including written or audio-visual material and computer software); trade secrets relating to know-how and preliminary arrangements for commercial development; and proprietary rights granted under the Plant Variety Rights Act subject to any special policy developed with respect to such rights. Mere ideas and suggestions are not usually regarded as intellectual property.

The University's policy on intellectual property is contained in section 10.13 of the Handbook of Administrative Policies and Practices (available in Departmental Offices). The policy is also reproduced in the Code of Practice for Maintaining and Monitoring Academic Quality and Standards for Higher Degrees.

Plagiarism and related forms of cheating

1 Plagiarism is expressly prohibited by Statute Chapter XVII Of Examinations and Assessment (see the Calendar, Volume I) which states under Section 2:

‘No candidate shall submit for assessment, whether by examination or otherwise, any piece of work which is not entirely the candidate’s own, except where either:

- (a) use of the words or ideas of others is appropriate and is duly acknowledged or
- (b) the examiner has given prior permission for joint or collaborative work to be submitted.

2 Definition

Plagiarism consists of a person using the words or ideas of another as if they were his or her own. The University regards plagiarism as a very serious offence. At the very least it is a misuse of academic conventions; where it is deliberate and systematic, plagiarism is cheating and false pretences. It is the obligation of every member of the University to understand and respect the rules concerning plagiarism; the excuse of ignorance will not be accepted.

Plagiarism can take several forms:

- (i) presenting substantial extracts from books, articles, theses, and other published or unpublished works such as working papers, seminar and conference papers, internal reports, computer software, lecture notes or tapes, and other students’ work, without clearly indicating their origin with quotation marks and references such as footnotes
- (ii) using very close paraphrasing of sentences or whole paragraphs without due acknowledgement in the form of reference to the original work

- (iii) quoting directly from a source and failing to insert quotation marks around the quoted passages. In such cases, it is not adequate merely to acknowledge the source.

note: be careful in your note-taking because plagiarism may arise inadvertently. If your notes include quotations or paraphrasing, make sure that fact is recorded so that you do not mistake the work of another for your own and so that you can source the material in your final draft.

3 Related forms of cheating

Other forms of cheating which will also be treated with the utmost seriousness include:

- (i) submitting work written by someone else on the student’s behalf
- (ii) submitting another student’s work whether or not it has been previously submitted by that student
- (iii) two students separately submitting the same piece of work upon which they have illicitly collaborated note: students can and do work together on projects and assignments. This is good practice, and many find it rewarding. The work of each student, however, which is submitted for assessment must be work of that student alone except for material which is acknowledged as being derived from another—even another student. Study together and discuss your assignment with others—but ensure that the work submitted is your own. Do your writing quite independently. When in doubt consult your subject coordinator and get written permission to work together on projects and assignments.

- (iv) a student submitting a piece of his or her own work for two different subjects
- (v) a student assisting any candidate in an examination or other piece of assessed individual work, or accepting assistance in such an examination or other piece of assessed individual work, except in accordance with approved study and assessment schemes

- (vi) a student having in his or her possession during an examination any material other than that which the examiner has specified as permissible
- (vii) a student causing any disturbance or engaging in conduct likely to disturb any other candidate in an examination (the Senior Examination Officer may require a candidate causing any disturbance to leave the examination room).

Cases of plagiarism or related forms of cheating will be dealt with under the Statutes, Chapter XII Of the Conduct of Students in the University.

Repeating students

Students who are repeating subjects, particularly a laboratory subject, which they have failed may be eligible to be granted exemption from lectures (if they are compulsory), tutorials or seminars, practical work and examinations (practical or written). Preliminary enquiries should be addressed to the Department concerned or the relevant Faculty Registrar.

Review of academic progress (Clause 4C)

Under the provisions of Clause 4C of the Statutes, Chapter XXV, students whose academic progress is considered to be unsatisfactory may be precluded from taking further studies in the course for which they are enrolled; or further enrolment in that course may not be permitted for one academic year; or they may be permitted to re-enrol, but with a restricted program of study.

Safety Procedures

The University of Adelaide recognises its obligation to take all reasonable precautions to safeguard the health, safety and welfare of its employees and students while they are at work.

The University also believes that students leaving this University must take with them an attitude which accepts good health and safety practice as normal.

All who work in laboratories must comply with Laboratory Conduct Procedures. Students who fail to comply with these procedures will not be allowed to work in the laboratory. General laboratory rules include:

- no eating, drinking or application of cosmetics in laboratories
- closed-in footwear must be worn at all times (bare feet, thongs and sandals are prohibited)
- laboratory coats, or gowns tied at the back, must be worn
- aisles must be kept free from obstructions.

A copy of the Laboratory Conduct Procedures is available from Department Secretaries, Department Health and Safety Officers, or the Occupational Health and Safety Unit and are contained in Appendix A of the General Course Rules, Calendar, Volume II.

Scholarships and Prizes

Many of the scholarships and prizes available at The University of Adelaide are described in The University Calendar, Volume I. Further information regarding postgraduate scholarships and major awards is obtainable from the Registrar, Scholarships, or the Scholarships Officer, in the Graduate Studies and Scholarships Branch, Level 7, Wills Building (ph: (08) 8303 5725/5697). Interested students should also consult the Scholarships noticeboard on Level 7, Wills Building, at regular intervals and the University's fortnightly newsletter The Adelaidean which includes the latest news about scholarships, and the Research Update which is distributed regularly to Departments.

Sexual Harassment

Policy Statement

The University of Adelaide is committed to providing a work and study environment which is free from sexual harassment for all members of the University community. Sexual harassment is unlawful and unacceptable within the University, and

- individual staff and student are responsible for ensuring that they do not subject other staff or students to sexual harassment while involved in any University activity
- staff supervisors and managers must ensure that, as far as practicable, the work and study environment for which they are responsible is free from sexual harassment
- staff who conduct teaching and learning activities for students must ensure that, as far as practicable, the study environment is free from sexual harassment

Defining Sexual Harassment

Sexual harassment consists of unwelcome sexual advances, unsolicited acts of physical intimacy, unwelcome requests for sexual favours or other unwelcome conduct of a sexual nature. Sexual harassment is defined by law from the perspective of the recipient and it occurs if the recipient feels offended, humiliated or intimidated by the conduct and it is reasonable, in all the circumstances, that the recipient would feel offended, humiliated or intimidated.

Seeking Advice

A person may wish to seek advice about sexual harassment without necessarily wishing to pursue a complaint. Some wish to make a statement of their concern about a situation, but not a complaint.

Complaint Resolution Procedures

The University recognises its responsibility to take prompt and effective action to deal with complaints of sexual harassment. The University's Sexual Harassment Complaint Resolution Procedures are summarised as follows:

- advice and support
- complaint resolution through facilitation
- complaint resolution through investigation

Complaint resolution procedures include:

- a network of Contact Officers
- a group of University Facilitators
- Sexual Harassment Panels to investigate formal complaints of sexual harassment

Contact Officer Network

A network of trained Contact Officers is available to give advice and support on sexual harassment issues. Any person may seek advice about sexual harassment without necessarily wishing to make a complaint. Anyone with doubts about disclosing details of alleged sexual harassment should first seek the advice of a Contact Officer. Up-to-date lists are available from:

- the Students' Association (SAUA) and the Postgraduate Students' Association (PGSA)
- the Equal Opportunity Office
- Staff Unions
- Personnel Services Branch

Complaint Resolution through Facilitation

Complainants may choose this option if they decide that they cannot resolve the matter themselves and they want a third party to facilitate a resolution of the complaint.

Complaint Resolution through Investigation

Any person who feels that she/he has been sexually harassed may choose other options than using the complaint resolution procedures. These include:

- discussing the matter directly with the person causing the concern
- pursuing the complaint through another representative body such as a relevant industrial or student union
- pursuing the complaint outside the University under equal opportunity or sex discrimination legislation

Section III: Rules and Procedures

- taking the complaint to the police, where the behaviour is thought to constitute criminal behaviour, such as sexual violence, obscene communications and stalking.

If in doubt, see a Contact Officer or contact the Equal Opportunity Office

Status for previous studies (Credit transfer)

Students seeking credit for work completed at either this University or another tertiary institution should obtain an 'Application for Status' form from the Faculty Registrar of the Faculty in which they are enrolled. The completed form should be lodged with the relevant Faculty Registrar.

An application for status on the grounds of work completed at another tertiary institution will be considered only if accompanied by a certified copy of the applicant's complete academic record (original or certified copy) and copies of the syllabuses of the relevant subjects and details of the structure of the course previously studied.

Statutory fees and other charges

Payment of the prescribed Statutory Fees is compulsory for every student. Details of these fees are available in the Enrolment Information Brochure forwarded to all new students with their SATAC offer and continuing students with their results. These fees are additional to the HECS liability and are collected as part of the enrolment process.

Students who withdraw from a course during the year may be entitled to a partial or full refund of Statutory Fees already paid depending on the date of withdrawal. Applications for refunds of fees should be made to the Revenue Office, Level 4, 230 North Terrace, Adelaide.

University charges

A charge of $50 may be made by the University in cases of late enrolment.

A charge of $30 may be made in cases of late application for graduation.

A charge of $30 may be made in cases of late payment of tuition fees.

Students who arrange to take their examinations externally are responsible for the payment of charges for supervision and should consult the Examinations Officer, Level 5, Wills Building (ph: (08) 8303 4210).

Student Identity Cards

The student identity card is used to access the facilities of the Students' Union and to borrow books from the library. Full-time students may also use them as an Trans Adelaide concession card.

It is planned to introduce a new type of student card in 1998. If you are a continuing student and already have an identity card from the previous year, present the receipt for your Union fees to the membership desk of the Barr Smith Library and your card will be revalidated or a new card issued for the current year. A new card will be produced for new students who will also need to present their receipts. If your identity card is lost or destroyed, contact the membership desk of the Barr Smith Library (proof of payment of fees is also necessary to obtain a replacement card).

Subject quotas

Some subjects have quota restrictions. While no compulsory subject for a course will be restricted, students should be careful when selecting subjects.

Students should check with their Faculty Registrar to determine which subjects are liable to quota restrictions and the method by which students will be selected into them.

Supplementary examinations

Please refer to the Examinations section.

Tape Recording Lectures

The University's policy is as follows:

In general, permission for students to use a tape-recorder at University lectures will not be granted. In special cases, however, such permission may be given, but only:

- (a) if both the lecturer concerned, and the relevant Head of Department, approve and
- (b) if the student gives a written undertaking that the recording;
 - (i) will be for his or her own exclusive use, and will not be played to any other person and
 - (ii) will be destroyed as soon as possible after it has served its purpose.

Students who feel that in their case there are good reasons why they should be permitted to use a tape-recorder at lectures are advised to consult, in the first instance, the appropriate Head of Department. If medical considerations are involved they would also find it helpful to consult the University Health Service, and in other cases, the University's Student Counselling Service.

Transferring courses (undergraduate)

Students wishing to transfer from one course to another, or from one institution to another (within S.A.), must lodge an application form with the South Australian Tertiary Admissions Centre (SATAC), 230 North Terrace, Adelaide by the normal closing date (usually the end of September), after which a late fee will apply.

Tuition Fees for Fee-Paying Courses and Non-Award Studies

A number of courses at The University of Adelaide are designated as fee-paying. Students enrolled in these courses are exempted from the Higher Education Contribution Scheme (HECS) and are instead required to pay the University the prescribed tuition fee upfront. All Non-Award students are required to pay the prescribed Non-Award subject fee upfront.

Due to recent changes in Commonwealth Government policy the tuition fee status and level of tuition fees has changed for many awards. Students should seek further information from the Student Information Office or the relevant faculty office. A schedule of tuition fees will be available in the new year.

Fee Payment Dates

First semester and full year subject fees are payable by 31 March, 1998. Second semester subject fees are payable by 31 August, 1998.

Fees for trimester based courses (such as Graduate Diploma in Management and Masters of Business Administration) have different dates. Students should refer to the individual course handbook for details in the case of such courses.

In most cases fee statements will be sent to the student prior to the relevant dates, otherwise students have two weeks from the date of the fee statement to make payment. All fees must be paid on or before the due date. Students with outstanding fees will be placed in financial badstanding and risk dis-enrolment and reference to the University's debt collectors if fees remain outstanding.

Students who believe they may have difficulty paying their fees should contact the Student Information Office before the due date to make payment arrangements.

In order to avoid fee liability for any enrolment, students must have withdrawn from the relevant subject (using an Amendment to Enrolment form lodged with the Student Information Office) before the relevant payment date. Note: these dates are earlier than the 'Withdraw Not Fail' dates in each semester/trimester.

A late fee of $30 may apply for fees paid after the due date.

Payment of Fees

Fees should be paid to any branch of the Bank of South Australia (BankSA) by presenting payment with the University's fee statement.

Enquiries regarding tuition fee liability and payment may be made to the Student Information Office, on (08) 8303 5208.

The following fee schedule details course fees on an annual (24 points) basis or full-time basis in the case of courses of less than one year's duration.

Students who are planning for their employer to pay their tuition fees are responsible for settling their fee account before the due date.
